Congo Crisis Eyed As Red Threat In Bahamas Meeting

U.S. Moves To Beef Up U.N. Force

Military Mission Sent To Carry Out Pledge By Kennedy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A high-level U.S. military mission was dispatched to U.N. headquarters today to begin carrying out a White House promise of new military equipment to beef up the U.N. force in the Congo.

A U.N. spokesman said the mission, led by Lt. Gen. Louis Truman, would go to the Congo after conferring with Secretary-General U Thant, who has warned that the U.N. will exert all pressures short of shooting to end the secession of Katanga Province.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred with Thant for nearly two hours Tuesday night on the explosive Congo situation. He said the United States acted at the secretary-general's behest.

Informed sources said the U.S. contribution would consist mainly of air transport equipment.

"The United States has been doing all it could for a long time to support the U.N. operation in the Congo," Stevenson told newsmen. "This request from the secretary-general for new equipment is only a further step in the program for moral support."

Stevenson said he knew nothing about possible use of U.S. troops in the Congo or about any new Soviet power bid in the divided African nation.

U.S. sources at the Bahamas meeting of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan said U.S. leaders fear a new Kremlin attempt to extend Soviet influence into the Congo if the continued secession of Katanga results in the fall of Premier Cyr-

Castro Talks Resume

Hopes Bolstered In Prisoner Deal

HAVANA (AP)—Hope mounted today that 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners may be freed from Fidel Castro's prisons by Christmas in exchange for U.S. food and medicines.

New York attorney James B. Donovan led a team of negotiators into a new round of talks with Castro Tuesday night.

Large stores of donated drugs and food were being assembled near Miami, Fla., in case the exchange goes through.

Donovan, who arranged the trade of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Russian spy Rudolph Abel early this year, arrived Tuesday on a third trip to Havana in his effort to effect the release of the Cubans captured in the invasion of April 1961.

With him were Alvaro Sanchez and Mrs. Virginia Betancourt, officials of the Cuban Families Committee, composed of prisoners' relatives.

Sources close to the negotiators said the prisoners, if freed, probably will be flown to Miami in chartered planes.

Castro demanded $62 million for their liberty but agreed later to take food and medicine instead of cash.

Havana relatives of the prisoners perked up on hearing reports from the United States of the shipment of tons of these supplies to Opa-Locka airfield near Miami.

The reports included these details:

Castro demanded $23 million worth of drugs, $6 million in equipment, $9.5 million in powdered milk and $14.5 million in baby foods. He supplied long lists of the drugs wanted. This totals only $53 million at manufacturers' list prices, but Donovan said some time ago Castro could put his own value on the stocks.

It was understood the prisoners would be released on delivery of 20 per cent of the amount demanded and a pledge for the balance.

Briton Told Of Russia's African Bid

President Reports On Moves To Stem Soviet Penetration

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—President Kennedy confronted Prime Minister Macmillan today with the possibility of a dangerous new Soviet-sparked crisis in Africa's Congo.

The U.S. and British government chiefs plunged into two days of study of complex cold war problems under a cloud of gloom generated by a deep British-American controversy over the future of the Skybolt missile.

U.S. leaders reportedly feel there is a very real danger of a renewed Soviet thrust into the Congo should the crisis generated by the secession of rich Katanga Province lead to the collapse of the moderate Leopoldville government.

The British did not appear to be as concerned as their American allies about the Congo prospects. One of Kennedy's aims at this meeting in this sun-splashed British island resort was to emphasize to Macmillan U.S. views of what might be done to defend the Congo against any new Soviet attempt at penetration.

A U.N. spokesman announced Tuesday night that the United States is sending an eight-man military mission headed by Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman, a cousin of former President Harry S. Truman, to the Congo to survey the military needs of the U.N. force there prior to the supplying of more American equipment to the U.N. troops.

U.S. government sources here said Truman's mission would survey not only the equipment situation but also the whole military prospect. These sources did not exclude the possibility that in an extreme crisis the Kennedy administration would consider sending American forces to the Congo.

There was some speculation in the corridors here that one purpose of the U.S. move was to

Convicts Attempt Break

23 Argentine Prisoners Killed As Revenge For Slain Guards

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Mutinous prison guards bent on revenge for the slaying of 10 comrades went gunning for rioting convicts and killed 23 before the shooting spree in Villa de Voto penitentiary was brought under control at 4 a.m. today.

A police spokesman said 10 guards were killed and 4 critically injured when 400 convicts attempted a mass break out of the crowded prison.

After the rioters surrendered, more than 100 guards went on a rampage. Police, in announcing 23 prisoners were killed, did not give the number wounded.

The 15 hours of rioting and gunfire in Villa de Voto's dark, damp cells and corridors finally ended about two hours after 100 guards, believed to have been most active in the vengeful retaliation, sped through the prison gates.

The rioting at Villa de Voto, where 2,100 transient prisoners and convicted criminals were being held, erupted at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday when six prisoners made a break for freedom.

They were armed with revolvers and pistols crudely assembled from smuggled parts.

They moved quickly, firing on guards and seizing 20 hostages, including a prison chaplain. The leaders were joined by the 400 inmates in two cell blocks and they barricaded themselves there.

Hernando Beiro, a hostage in one cell block, said the rioters told two captive guards to eat their supper and then shot them in the back.

A hostage in the other cell block said one ringleader wanted to shoot hostages but was restrained by other prisoners.

City Judge Leopoldo Insaurralde, sent to talk to prisoners at their request, returned after 15 minutes and reported the rioters were in an ugly mood and vowed to fight to the end. He said the hostages were in grave danger.

Wild shooting continued into the night, until Col. Miguel Paiva, director of penal institutes, announced at 10:20 p.m. that the hostages had been freed and "the mutiny is over."

He ordered the guards to take the ringleaders back to their cells unmolested.

It was then, reports from the prison said, that the guards rebelled against their orders and went on a manhunt.

Crying "We are the judges," and "We will kill them all," they invaded the cell blocks. At least four ringleaders were reported killed by a machine-gun burst.

Intermittent gunfire continued for more than four hours.

Director Paiva announced his resignation because his orders had been disobeyed.

Despite the confusion, officials said no prisoners escaped.

U.S. Showing Deep Concern Over Brazil

Bob Kennedy Trip Underlines Interest In Nation's Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's unheralded trip to Brazil has underlined sharp U.S. concern with that country's deep economic and political problems.

The attorney general returned to Washington Tuesday after conferring in Brasilia, Brazil's capital, with President Joao Goulart. It was believed he emphasized Washington's worry over the Goulart administration's failure to stem a ravaging tide of inflation.

President Kennedy has also signaled his concern over Brazil's problems—a key nation in South America because of its size and influence.

Within the past few weeks the President has had a series of conversations with such figures as Adhemar de Barros, newly elected governor of Sao Paulo; former president Juscelino Kubitschek, and the U.S. ambassador to Brazil, Lincoln Gordon.

The attorney general expanded a trip to Panama in order to make the 12-hour visit in Brazil. The communique which followed the 3½-hour Kennedy-Goulart discussion was the usual diplomatic statement that the talks were "useful."

The attorney general was unavailable for comment on his return.

The major cause for the urgent U.S. concern is galloping inflation.

Fire In Truck Damages 10 Bags Of Mail

Postal Inspectors To Determine Loss Of District Mails

Ten bags of mail from the area were heavily damaged or destroyed by fire in the rear of a star route mail truck Tuesday night at 7:15 about two miles south of Toronto.

The truck, en route to Steubenville from East Liverpool and Wellsville, also was carrying mail from the Hammondsville, Irondale and Salineville areas.

It is not known immediately what type of mail was destroyed or exactly where it was from. This will be determined today by postal inspectors.

Postmaster Samuel Brown said his office was besieged by calls today by persons wanting to know what mail was destroyed. He said he can not tell them anything until he has been notified by the inspectors.

Brown received a report about 11 this morning from the inspectors at Steubenville, who informed him East Liverpool did not lose any parcel post but did lose two pouches of mail.

One was a pouch of air mail which was about half full and the other was mail being sent to Harrisburg, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York state and some New England states.

The air mail consisted of letters dropped in the slot between 4 and 6 p. m. yesterday.

It is believed Wellsville lost two pouches. Some of the mail was just scorched and will be recovered. It will be checked by the inspectors and if an address can be made out, it will be placed in new envelopes and sent on.

The truck, owned by Carl Stanley of Richmond and leased to the Post Office, was driven by Wil-

Coins Stolen From Vending Machines

Three business places were burglarized Tuesday night or early today, but only minor loss resulted, police reported.

Intruders hit: Wright's Cash & Carry Lumber Co. in the Carroll Building on Dresden Ave.; a McAllister Dairy Farms Store on St. Clair Ave., Maplewood, and the Cooper Amoco Service Station at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., officers said.

At the service station, the burglars used pliers to cut through heavy gauge wire screening a rear window. A tire tool and a screw driver were used to force open a cigarette machine and a soft drink vending device.

An undetermined amount in change was stolen from the two machines. It was not know immediately if any of the cigarettes were taken, officers said. Nothing

DiSalle Sets Plan To Hear Liquor Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio public may, after all, get the cream of the testimony presented to the ill-fated special grand jury which investigated allegations of influence peddling in connection with liquor sales in Ohio.

Outgoing Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, balked at obtaining release of the transcript of the defunct grand jury, has set up a procedure which could result in obtaining much of the key testimony "on the record."

DiSalle's liquor director, George R. Dick, has scheduled for Jan. 4 a hearing on a citation to revoke the solicitor registration credentials of James M. Carroll, Columbus distillers' agent.

Carroll is one of the men involved in allegations made last October, in the midst of the gubernatorial campaign, by Joseph H. Makler of Chicago, head of Waterfill & Frazier Distilling Co. Makler asserted in a letter to Dick that he had been forced in 1959 to do business in a Columbus hotel room to get Waterfill & Frazier liquor brands listed for sale in Ohio's monopoly stores.

Gives Signals From Polar Orbit

First Transit Satellite To Help Ships And Subs

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) — Transit 5A, the guiding star satellite which rocketed skyward with a brilliance visible for hundreds of miles, gave out a steady signal from its polar orbit today.

The signal will help ships and submarines determine their positions more accurately.

Seconds after Transit 5A's launch at 5:26 p.m. (PST) Tuesday, the colorful trial of the satellite's rocket booster reflected the setting sun's rays like colored skywriting.

It was seen by hundreds from San Diego to San Francisco, Calif., and one observer 900 miles away said he saw a glow in the sky at launch time.

The 140-pound satellite was launched atop the four-stage, solid-fuel Blue Scout rocket by the Air Force for the Navy. It went into orbit an hour and a half later.

It was the first of two space vehicles launched from here within hours. A space probe, also utilizing a Blue Scout unit, was launched Tuesday night.

The Air Force did not reveal the payload of the second or the nature of its mission.

Transit 5A is to the first of a four-satellite network which by the end of 1963 should enable ships anywhere in the world to fix their positions quickly, in any kind of weather.

Such information is particularly vital to Polaris-launching submarines which must know their positions precisely before firing their missiles.

Current celestial navigation techniques require clear skies.

A brilliant fireball lit up the sky as the setting sun's rays bounced off the rocket while its third stage was ignited at 330,000 feet.

Police and newspaper office switchboards in cities within a 350-mile radius were deluged with calls from persons who saw the fireball and the sunset-tinged rose, green and white rocket exhaust which followed.

Trans World Airlines pilot Joe Nichols, approaching Albuquerque said he saw the fireball linger on the western horizon.

In Long Beach, Calif., a father persuaded his children it was Santa Claus and his reindeer.

9 Youngsters Shaken When Car Hits Bus

Nine youngsters were shaken but apparently unhurt and a Georgetown area motorist was injured when his car crashed headon with a school bus Tuesday morning at 7:30 in Washington County (Pa.) near Paris.

Carnegie State Police said a car driven by William Landers, 31, of Georgetown R. D. 1 and the bus transporting the nine pupils to classes crashed on a narrow, snow covered road six miles west of Florence, Pa.

The youngsters were treated at Weirton General Hospital and released, police said. George Connelly of Burgettstown, the bus operator, escaped unhurt.

The accident happened on Hanover Township Rd. in Washington County near the West Virginia-Pennsylvania state line.

Landers underwent surgery at Weirton General Hospital for internal injuries and was in "fair" condition today.

Firemen Seek More Toys For Renovation

Running short of toys to be distributed to needy children for Christmas, city firemen today appealed for additional donations of useable playthings.

Because the time is limited, the toys should be articles that can be repaired quickly, firemen said, asking residents not to donate articles that should be junked.

"The toys are being distributed through the city relief office as fast as they come in now," firemen said, estimating nearly a truckload of toys have been received.

Dean Rose of Center Township was returned as vice president. Fifty attended.

Morris (Mike) Boyd, a director of the State Trustees and Clerks Association, was the principal speaker.

Firemen Seek More Toys For Renovation

Running short of toys to be distributed to needy children for Christmas, city firemen today appealed for additional donations of useable playthings.

Because the time is limited, the toys should be articles that can be repaired quickly, firemen said, asking residents not to donate articles that should be junked.

"The toys are being distributed through the city relief office as fast as they come in now," firemen said, estimating nearly a truckload of toys have been received.

Coins Stolen From Vending Machines

Three business places were burglarized Tuesday night or early today, but only minor loss resulted, police reported.

Intruders hit: Wright's Cash & Carry Lumber Co. in the Carroll Building on Dresden Ave.; a McAllister Dairy Farms Store on St. Clair Ave., Maplewood, and the Cooper Amoco Service Station at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., officers said.

At the service station, the burglars used pliers to cut through heavy gauge wire screening a rear window. A tire tool and a screw driver were used to force open a cigarette machine and a soft drink vending device.

An undetermined amount in change was stolen from the two machines. It was not know immediately if any of the cigarettes were taken, officers said. Nothing

If Russia Had The Skybolt

With Sens. Symington and Russell making ominous sounds about will may happen if the Defense Department ends its Skybolt missile program, Secretary McNamara must feel as if wild Indians were closing in on the stockade.

British spokesmen have rumbled about pulling out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if Skybolt is cancelled, because it would leave the United Kingdom with no nuclear weapon. Britain was counting on using Skybolt missiles on its Vutcan bombers.

When senators like Symington and Russell, the latter as chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, the former as a sometime military "expert," with a deep loyalty to the Air Force, talk about what they will do if Skybolt is cancelled, it looks as if Secretary McNamara overmatched himself.

If Russia had this problem, it would be handled differently.

A Skybolt missile would be carted through Red Square, with its name painted on the side. Photographers would take pictures of it, and the pictures would be studied closely by U.S. military experts.

Stories would be planted about Skybolt's performance — how many times it whizzed flawlessly to the bullseye and its potentialities of nuclear destruction. There would be blurred photographs purportedly smuggled out of Russia in 5-pound tins of caviar showing Skybolt about to zero in on New York City.

This would scare the United States out of $5 billion. By the time some nosey newshawk learned what Central Intelligence Agency hadn't found out — that Russia never had more than a mockup of a Skybolt — it would be too late. The United States would have an antimissile, of no use for anything but shooting down nonexistent Russian Skybolts. And U.S. taxpayers would have spent another $5 billion they don't have to protect themselves from a danger that never materialized.

Aviation Has No Prior Rights

The Civil Aeronautics Board has launched its customary immediate inquiry into the crash of a cargo plane in North Hollywood, Calif. It is always reassuring to know the CAB intends to get on the job without delay, to learn what it can of the crash, for the purpose of averting future accidents.

The supposition behind the promptness is sound.

Every aviation accident, the CAB believes —as do all investigators of aviation accidents everywhere on earth—was caused by a mistake.

Therefore, if the mistake can be pinpointed and the information made known throughout the aviation industry, future mistakes of the same kind can be prevented.

But a layman wonders whether investigations carried out in this spirit may not miss the obvious point sometimes.

When airplanes are being landed in heavy fog, as this one was and also the passenger plane that crashed at Idlewild International Airport recently, the cause of the crash could be stated simply: Unsafe flying conditions.

When unsafe conditions culminate in the death of people on the ground, as the North Hollywood crash did, the CAB must share its investigation with the aroused interest of civil authorities.

Groundlings have a right to believe their security in their own homes should be taken into consideration when airplanes whose operators have taken foolhardy risks fall on populated areas.

Aviation has no prior rights over the right of people in general to be safe in their homes.

Some December—Pow!

It would be hard to find anyone with an unkind word to say about the beautiful November weather that made it possible to believe winter was going to be postponed indefinitely.

But the beautiful weather played hob with Christmas merchandising. When winter did come, it came so violently that people who hadn't felt like buying Christmas merchandise while the weather was too warm couldn't get out to buy because the weather was too cold.

Newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland added another complication. Even things that had been foreseen, or least were foreseeable, have added complications, such as the fact that Saturday before Christmas last year was one day closer to the great day than it will be this year, because Christmas was on Monday last year and is on Tuesday this year.

Business analysts say Saturday business last year made it a merchandising day to remember for all time to come. This year there's one more selling day than there was last year, which may offset the business about Saturday.

This is the way it always goes. In November, Christmas prognosticators peer ahead through the gathering darkness of the winter solstice and see all kinds of hopeful signs and portents. In December, reality asserts itself over prognostication. Things are never quite as good as they are depicted in November.

Some year there will be a December when the weather will be just right, the national buying power will be distributed equitably, world politics will be serene, the business cycle will be favorable, all the people will be in a jolly, outgoing mood, the merchandise will be better than it ever was before — and pow!

Merry Christmas will be so good that not even the gloomy Guses will have anything to say. The truth is it's almost that good nearly every year, except for one thing — it's never as good as it is cracked up to be by those who want to think it's going to be better than it has a chance to be, weather, human nature and other circumstances being as they are.

Expense Accounts For Taxpayers

Congressmen who live lavishly on foreign junkets at taxpayers' expense need not account in detail for their expenditures.

Who is there to audit them? Certainly not the General Accounting Office, which is a creation of Congress.

That would be like putting crows in charge of guarding the corn.

Thus, when congressmen travel abroad, as many of them are prone to do, they go in style and they live in style.

Embassies dish out foreign money to them freely. These "counterpart funds" are in repayment for various types of foreign aid and the currency can be spent only in the country of origin.

Some congressmen find it possible to hide all manner of extravagant expenditures, and when they come home, they simply tell the chairman of their own committee how much they spent.

The chairman usually is not inclined to be too nosey, so the accounting is handled in broad terms and most details never see the light of day. He may have been there himself one day.

The thing that should be remembered is that these are the same congressmen who last year set down tough new rules on allowable expense accounts of private business.

The way things are now, private citizens, spending private money, must account in detail, while elected public officials, spending public money, can sweep the detail under the rug.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Something I could do without in snow storms is squawkers who complain about snow on the roads but do not lift a finger to clean their own sidewalks.

Trying to recall what we did about Santa Claus when the Twillery tots were tiny toddlers, I draw a blank and must assume we were as unsuccessful with this fantasy as we were with the Easter bunny and the good fairy that takes away pulled teeth and leaves money under the pillow.

One of the oddities of timing in advertising cropped out when the company that makes Skybolt missiles gave them a sendoff the same week headlines were declaring that the Defense Department was getting ready to cancel the Skybolt project.

I remain unconvinced about most of the results of what I consider to be "stunt architecture" — structures which prove nothing but the possibility of putting building materials together in unusual shapes. It could be that these will be classified someday with the monstrosities that appeared in the Victorian era.

We kid ourselves when we interpret information about bad conditions in mainland China as proof of imminent political collapse. That isn't the way it works under authoritarian rule. Like Russia, China is probably better off under its present inept government than it was under its previous inept government. Things were so bad before that anything would have been an improvement.

It is barely possible that among those knocking the Kennedy proposal for stimulating the economy by reducing taxes without reducing spending are a few who have been known to stretch their credit to the limit in a lean period in hope of convincing a watching world they were rolling in the bucks.

I will still make modest bets at long odds that Fidel Castro will turn up in this country as a refugee, where he might even have feathered a nest, like Fulgencio Batista, his predecessor, reported to own a plush apartment building on the Virginia side of the Potomac, overlooking Washington.

It is time again for my sheepherder's observation that sheep in nativity scenes should not be confused with the animals that grazed on the hills above Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago, which were the remote ancestors of what now are called sheep.

I am frequently and favorably impressed with the performance of the industries whose services are indispensable in our modern mode of living. Millions of people who rely on gas heat, telephones, gasoline and oil take it for granted these things will be available when needed, as will food, most cases, newspapers.

For many years I have been searching my mind for a better definition of politics than any I've ever heard. It would be something like this: Politics is the art of making up the people's mind to do what needs to be started and to accept what couldn't be stopped.

How The Situation Hangs

Communists Plague British Industry

By Victor Riesel

DAGENHAM, ENG. An avowed revolutionist, trained and tempered in the steel mill towns of Ohio during the turbulent '30s, is operating in this industrial community not far from London. His name is John Williamson, former labor chief of the American Communist party. We jailed him. He served five years. We deported him to his native England.

Victor Riesel

Today John Williamson is secretary of the Communist party of this district which surrounds the great Ford Motor Co. plant, employing 32,000 members of 22 unions.

It may be coincidence. But in the more than three years since Williamson took over the party unit of 1,100 disciplined Communists, Ford of Dagenham has been hit by hundreds of wildcat strikes, flash stoppages and grievance rows.

Certainly there were strikes before Williamson arrived. In all, during the past five years the company has been hit by more than 300 unofficial walkouts (wildcats). Strikes have cost as much as $9 million in one year in lost production.

IN MOSCOW this summer, Williamson boasted gleefully to a friend that he was helping the British "working class" get at the American investors. Just how he does this I do not know, nor do my British labor friends. They do know that the Ford Motor company has been harassed by a network of Communist shop stewards inside the vast plant. Some put this cadre at 12 men. Some estimate 20.

But 12 or 20, they are merely a handful of the full force of 400 shop stewards in the vast plant. Yet they are so strategically placed and so well coordinated, disciplined and trained that they can and have shut down the plant or sections of it with ease.

The Communist cadres have provoked strikes over the dismissal of one man or the shifting of a few men from one department to another.

Hardly a month has gone by without the local shop steward cadres — members of the regional Communist party — whipping up some grievance. And when one militant could not find one ready made, he called a union meeting on Ford plant property in violation of the union contract. He was fired. Out went the men for nine costly days.

RECENTLY, a stoppage by a few hundred men forced the layoff of some 6,000. Finally the company decided it had had enough. It decided to take on the shop steward cadres. Notice went out cutting 70 men off the payroll. Twelve of these were militant trouble-making stewards.

Then came the uproar and the all powerful Frank Cousins, leader of Britain's biggest and strongest union, the Transport and General Workers, stepped in to prevent a strike which would have thrown all 32,000 men out of work.

Note what 12 men can do even in a massive plant employing so many thousands. Note, too, that these techniques are used elsewhere in what appears to be a coordinated plan to destroy Britain's economy.

Note how it has been used on the British waterfront — especially on the London docks. Note that John Williamson operated on those docks after he came over from the United States and before he shifted over to Dagenham.

WILDCAT STOPPAGES on the British waterfronts have cost the government and shippers millions of dollars. They began long before Williamson arrived. They have continued since he went inland. But it is significant that the party first put its specialist in the center of this economic sabotage operation.

I have run across a report by Sir Leslie Ford, general manager of the Port of London. In it he charges bluntly that Communists are tying up shipping in English harbors in a "deliberate program of work stoppages."

Losses have rocketed into millions of dollars for the operators of the British ports.

Hark these figures if you do not believe that the Communist technique of concentration on strategic bottleneck facilities can cripple a nation in crisis. During one strike 196 ships heading for London were diverted to other ports. Another 126 vessels had to leave the big harbor only partially loaded.

"THERE HAS been a deliberate policy," said Sir Leslie, "by a small segment of labor of creating interruptions in the transport world. There is no doubt in my mind of the Communist influence behind this.

"The Communists don't want a general strike. In a large strike, national leaders could negotiate a long peace. Instead, it is only minor labor incidents that blow up with irritating regularity. The pot is boiling over at some place all the time."

And yet the British chide us all the time for suspicioning the Communists too much. But when the sabotage is on the other foot, they suspicion too.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The letters in The Review the last few days have prompted me to write about something that has been on my heart for a good many years.

It always hurts me to see "Xmas" instead of Christmas. Look at the word "Xmas". Doesn't it look wicked and cruel?

No doubt many people, perhaps most people, write it this way innocently. But on the other hand it must have been started this way to try to take Christ out of Christmas.

Why do we celebrate Christmas? Isn't it because Christ was born? Isn't it because God looked down on this wicked world and saw the sinfulness of man and sent His only begotten Son down to this earth to die on the cross and shed His precious blood to save us from our sins?

I think Christ's heart is made sad when He looks down and sees the post office and stores open on the Sabbath to help get ready to celebrate His birthday.

The scripture says "the love of money is the root of all evil". Could it be that Christmas has become so commercialized that Christ is crowded out? How will we celebrate Christ's birthday? Will it be in a way that will be pleasing to Christ? Or will it be with a lot of dancing and drunkenness? You who sell whisky, beer and wine, do you feel as though you dare to sell that stuff to people who you know may cause their death?

How can you live with your conscience if you sell drinks to someone and they go out and have a wreck and get killed or kill someone else?

And why do we celebrate Christ's birthday by giving all the presents to others instead of giving some gifts to Christ? We could give a good offering for missions. That would please Christ and help get the story of Jesus to millions of people who have never heard it.

Let's keep the name of Christ in Christmas!

Kennedy Criticized On Cuban Crisis

President Kennedy has unwittingly just given the American people an explanation of how an administration should not function in a crisis. He told of his experience with numerous advisers and conflicting opinions in connection with the Cuban crisis.

David Lawrence

What he did not explain is why the government of the United States did not take action in Cuba when first reports came concerning the intervention of the Communist government in the island country.

Mr. Kennedy tells of how critical those "six days" in October were when his advisers gathered around him and there was fear that a misstep might be made. But he doesn't give any satisfactory answer to the question of why the Cuban situation was allowed to drift as far as it did before those same six days of decision-making started.

The President's review of his first two years in office, as given over television and radio of the three major networks, is an example of the advantage which the President has in getting publicity. There was no opportunity to rebut or refute what he said. Copies of his remarks were not made available to the press until about an hour and a half before the first broadcast. Opposition speakers who could have told the American people the weaknesses in the President's argument had no chance to examine the transcript, though actually Mr. Kennedy gave the interview 24 hours earlier, when it was taped by the networks.

The Cuban problem has not yet been solved, and it will take intensive investigation by congressional committees to find out why the American people were left unprotected from the time last August when first reports came in concerning the emplacement of Soviet missiles to the taking of action late in October.

THE PRESIDENT'S analysis of the way his administration reacted to the Cuban crisis indicates that he did not actually decide to take action against the Soviet government until he had some photographs showing the missiles were already in place. Many Americans had believed, from a reading of history, that the Monroe Doctrine was still a part of the foreign policy of the United States. They had assumed that the United States would act promptly to prevent the establishment of any European system in this hemisphere.

The Kennedy administration, however, allowed the Soviet government to get a stronger and stronger hold in Cuba. Indeed, when the so-called "invasion" was undertaken in the spring of 1961, the Kennedy administration at first agreed to help the Cuban exiles and then withdrew air cover.

It was this blunder which led the Soviets to believe that they could take a chance and send missiles to Cuba and that nothing would be done until the missiles actually were in place. Then the missiles could be withdrawn as a part of a trading process, with Premier Khrushchev hoping perhaps he could get concessions from the United States in connection with the Berlin or other controversies.

THE DANGERS and risks in making foreign policy decisions by the method outlined by the President in his interview on television will give pause to those who have hitherto believed that the government of the United States would never allow any potential enemy to get as close as the Soviets did in Cuba.

The fact that missiles were being shipped to Cuba was well known, and speeches were made, calling attention to this, on the floor of the Senate by Republican leaders as well as by some Democrats.

The Central Intelligence Agency, on which the American government must depend for knowledge of what is going on inside foreign countries, had a substantial amount of information concerning what was happening in Cuba. It was enough for the American government to act upon and at least to demand in the late summer that the Cubans get rid of Russian military equipment of all kinds.

Mr. Kennedy in his interview tells of the fears of his advisers that the situation might be "escalated." The difficulty is that the situation was allowed to reach the brink of danger, anyway.

Hitherto, American policy has been based upon established principles. There is no need for conferences among advisers, official or unofficial, to determine what the duty of the United States happens to be when a basic principle of national safety has been violated. It is as if the United States would argue whether or not it should retaliate when a blow is struck against its security.

The fact that, when such a blow was struck in Cuba, it was the subject of six days of discussion before a determination was made to take forceful action, is an indication of how slow the process of decision-making has become.

MR. KENNEDY'S explanation of the Russian attitude in connection with the missiles in Cuba is an interesting illustration of how little the United States was prepared to meet the different contingencies which arose. Instead of forestalling action, the problem was allowed to develop to a point where a real crisis emerged. Mr. Kennedy gives an interesting narrative of what happened. He says:

"I think, looking back on Cuba, what is of concern is the fact that both governments were so far out of contact, really. I don't think that we expected that he would put the missiles in Cuba, because it would have seemed such an imprudent action for him to take, as it was later proved. Now, he obviously must have thought that he could do it in secret and that the United States would accept it. So that he did not judge our intentions accurately."

The American people will still want to know why the United States did not do more about Soviet activities in Cuba during the years 1961 and 1962, especially when there was widespread knowledge that the Communists were militarily active in that country.

If Russia Had The Skybolt

With Sens. Symington and Russell making ominous sounds about will may happen if the Defense Department ends its Skybolt missile program, Secretary McNamara must feel as if wild Indians were closing in on the stockade.

British spokesmen have rumbled about pulling out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if Skybolt is cancelled, because it would leave the United Kingdom with no nuclear weapon. Britain was counting on using Skybolt missiles on its Vutcan bombers.

When senators like Symington and Russell, the latter as chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, the former as a sometime military "expert," with a deep loyalty to the Air Force, talk about what they will do if Skybolt is cancelled, it looks as if Secretary McNamara overmatched himself.

If Russia had this problem, it would be handled differently.

A Skybolt missile would be carted through Red Square, with its name painted on the side. Photographers would take pictures of it, and the pictures would be studied closely by U.S. military experts.

Stories would be planted about Skybolt's performance — how many times it whizzed flawlessly to the bullseye and its potentialities of nuclear destruction. There would be blurred photographs purportedly smuggled out of Russia in 5-pound tins of caviar showing Skybolt about to zero in on New York City.

This would scare the United States out of $5 billion. By the time some nosey newshawk learned what Central Intelligence Agency hadn't found out — that Russia never had more than a mockup of a Skybolt — it would be too late. The United States would have an antimissile, of no use for anything but shooting down nonexistent Russian Skybolts. And U.S. taxpayers would have spent another $5 billion they don't have to protect themselves from a danger that never materialized.

Aviation Has No Prior Rights

The Civil Aeronautics Board has launched its customary immediate inquiry into the crash of a cargo plane in North Hollywood, Calif. It is always reassuring to know the CAB intends to get on the job without delay, to learn what it can of the crash, for the purpose of averting future accidents.

The supposition behind the promptness is sound.

Every aviation accident, the CAB believes —as do all investigators of aviation accidents everywhere on earth—was caused by a mistake.

Therefore, if the mistake can be pinpointed and the information made known throughout the aviation industry, future mistakes of the same kind can be prevented.

But a layman wonders whether investigations carried out in this spirit may not miss the obvious point sometimes.

When airplanes are being landed in heavy fog, as this one was and also the passenger plane that crashed at Idlewild International Airport recently, the cause of the crash could be stated simply: Unsafe flying conditions.

When unsafe conditions culminate in the death of people on the ground, as the North Hollywood crash did, the CAB must share its investigation with the aroused interest of civil authorities.

Groundlings have a right to believe their security in their own homes should be taken into consideration when airplanes whose operators have taken foolhardy risks fall on populated areas.

Aviation has no prior rights over the right of people in general to be safe in their homes.

Some December–Pow!

It would be hard to find anyone with an unkind word to say about the beautiful November weather that made it possible to believe winter was going to be postponed indefinitely.

But the beautiful weather played hob with Christmas merchandising. When winter did come, it came so violently that people who hadn't felt like buying Christmas merchandise while the weather was too warm couldn't get out to buy because the weather was too cold.

Newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland added another complication. Even things that had been foreseen, or least were foreseeable, have added complications, such as the fact that Saturday before Christmas last year was one day closer to the great day than it will be this year, because Christmas was on Monday last year and is on Tuesday this year.

Business analysts say Saturday business last year made it a merchandising day to remember for all time to come. This year there's one more selling day than there was last year, which may offset the business about Saturday.

This is the way it always goes. In November, Christmas prognosticators peer ahead through the gathering darkness of the winter solstice and see all kinds of hopeful signs and portents. In December, reality asserts itself over prognostication. Things are never quite as good as they are depicted in November.

Some year there will be a December when the weather will be just right, the national buying power will be distributed equitably, world politics will be serene, the business cycle will be favorable, all the people will be in a jolly, outgoing mood, the merchandise will be better than it ever was before — and pow!

Merry Christmas will be so good that not even the gloomy Guses will have anything to say. The truth is it's almost that good nearly every year, except for one thing — it's never as good as it is cracked up to be by those who want to think it's going to be better than it has a chance to be, weather, human nature and other circumstances being as they are.

Expense Accounts For Taxpayers

Congressmen who live lavishly on foreign junkets at taxpayers' expense need not account in detail for their expenditures.

Who is there to audit them? Certainly not the General Accounting Office, which is a creation of Congress.

That would be like putting crows in charge of guarding the corn.

Thus, when congressmen travel abroad, as many of them are prone to do, they go in style and they live in style.

Embassies dish out foreign money to them freely. These "counterpart funds" are in repayment for various types of foreign aid and the currency can be spent only in the country of origin.

Some congressmen find it possible to hide all manner of extravagant expenditures, and when they come home, they simply tell the chairman of their own committee how much they spent.

The chairman usually is not inclined to be too nosey, so the accounting is handled in broad terms and most details never see the light of day. He may have been there himself one day.

The thing that should be remembered is that these are the same congressmen who last year set down tough new rules on allowable expense accounts of private business.

The way things are now, private citizens, spending private money, must account in detail, while elected public officials, spending public money, can sweep the detail under the rug.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Something I could do without in snow storms is squawkers who complain about snow on the roads but do not lift a finger to clean their own sidewalks.

Trying to recall what we did about Santa Claus when the Twillery tots were tiny toddlers, I draw a blank and must assume we were as unsuccessful with this fantasy as we were with the Easter bunny and the good fairy that takes away pulled teeth and leaves money under the pillow.

One of the oddities of timing in advertising cropped out when the company that makes Skybolt missiles gave them a sendoff the same week headlines were declaring that the Defense Department was getting ready to cancel the Skybolt project.

I remain unconvinced about most of the results of what I consider to be "stunt architecture" — structures which prove nothing but the possibility of putting building materials together in unusual shapes. It could be that these will be classified someday with the monstrosities that appeared in the Victorian era.

We kid ourselves when we interpret information about bad conditions in mainland China as proof of imminent political collapse. That isn't the way it works under authoritarian rule. Like Russia, China is probably better off under its present inept government than it was under its previous inept government. Things were so bad before that anything would have been an improvement.

It is barely possible that among those knocking the Kennedy proposal for stimulating the economy by reducing taxes without reducing spending are a few who have been known to stretch their credit to the limit in a lean period in hope of convincing a watching world they were rolling in the bucks.

I will still make modest bets at long odds that Fidel Castro will turn up in this country as a refugee, where he might even have feathered a nest, like Fulgencio Batista, his predecessor, reported to own a plush apartment building on the Virginia side of the Potomac, overlooking Washington.

It is time again for my sheepherder's observation that sheep in nativity scenes should not be confused with the animals that grazed on the hills above Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago, which were the remote ancestors of what now are called sheep.

I am frequently and favorably impressed with the performance of the industries whose services are indispensable in our modern mode of living. Millions of people who rely on gas heat, telephones, gasoline and oil take it for granted these things will be available when needed, as will food, most cases, newspapers.

For many years I have been searching my mind for a better definition of politics than any I've ever heard. It would be something like this: Politics is the art of making up the people's mind to do what needs to be started and to accept what couldn't be stopped.

How The Situation Hangs

Communists Plague British Industry

By Victor Riesel

DAGENHAM, ENG. An avowed revolutionist, trained and tempered in the steel mill towns of Ohio during the turbulent '30s, is operating in this industrial community not far from London. His name is John Williamson, former labor chief of the American Communist party. We jailed him. He served five years. We deported him to his native England.

Victor Riesel

Today John Williamson is secretary of the Communist party of this district which surrounds the great Ford Motor Co. plant, employing 32,000 members of 22 unions.

It may be coincidence. But in the more than three years since Williamson took over the party unit of 1,100 disciplined Communists, Ford of Dagenham has been hit by hundreds of wildcat strikes, flash stoppages and grievance rows.

Certainly there were strikes before Williamson arrived. In all, during the past five years the company has been hit by more than 300 unofficial walkouts (wildcats). Strikes have cost as much as $9 million in one year in lost production.

IN MOSCOW this summer, Williamson boasted gleefully to a friend that he was helping the British "working class" get at the American investors. Just how he does this I do not know, nor do my British labor friends. They do know that the Ford Motor company has been harassed by a network of Communist shop stewards inside the vast plant. Some put this cadre at 12 men. Some estimate 20.

But 12 or 20, they are merely a handful of the full force of 400 shop stewards in the vast plant. Yet they are so strategically placed and so well coordinated, disciplined and trained that they can and have shut down the plant or sections of it with ease.

The Communist cadres have provoked strikes over the dismissal of one man or the shifting of a few men from one department to another.

Hardly a month has gone by without the local shop steward cadres — members of the regional Communist party — whipping up some grievance. And when one militant could not find one ready made, he called a union meeting on Ford plant property in violation of the union contract. He was fired. Out went the men for nine costly days.

RECENTLY, a stoppage by a few hundred men forced the layoff of some 6,000. Finally the company decided it had had enough. It decided to take on the shop steward cadres. Notice went out cutting 70 men off the payroll. Twelve of these were militant trouble-making stewards.

Then came the uproar and the all powerful Frank Cousins, leader of Britain's biggest and strongest union, the Transport and General Workers, stepped in to prevent a strike which would have thrown all 32,000 men out of work.

Note what 12 men can do even in a massive plant employing so many thousands. Note, too, that these techniques are used elsewhere in what appears to be a coordinated plan to destroy Britain's economy.

Note how it has been used on the British waterfront — especially on the London docks. Note that John Williamson operated on those docks after he came over from the United States and before he shifted over to Dagenham.

WILDCAT STOPPAGES on the British waterfronts have cost the government and shippers millions of dollars. They began long before Williamson arrived. They have continued since he went inland. But it is significant that the party first put its specialist in the center of this economic sabotage operation.

At Wellsville Council

Annual Transfer Of Funds Slated

The annual transfer of appropriations, totaling $19,210.50, to balance the various funds at the end of the year was approved by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The necessary legislation was passed under suspension of rules. Auditor Edgar S. Davidson said there is money in each individual fund included in the general fund. The transfers are from one section to another. None in the general fund is overdrawn at present.

HE POINTED out the auditor and treasurer funds are overdrawn as new checks had to be purchased. He said by purchasing the checks jointly, they saved the city $50. A total of 10,000 checks for each were obtained. They will last eight or 10 years. Davidson said this is the first time city checks have been purchased since he has been in office.

Questioned as to how much money the city operated on the past year, Davidson said overall it was under the total for last year. He said he is balancing the books now and will have the exact figures later.

He said he does not know if the general fund will end in the black nor if there will be enough money to meet all bills. The refuse fund will end in the black while the water fund may end in the red. The refuse fund ended in the red in 1961.

THE TOTALS transfered in the various departments covered by the general fund are as follows:

Clerk of Council, $130; mayor, $75; auditor, $330; floodwall, $1,000; police, $710, including $500 for special police and $100 for radio; fire, $780, including $300 for special police, $200 for utilities and $75 for the alarm system; service, $1,131, including $1,000 for liability insurance; sewers, $500; treasurer, $925; solicitor, $75; parks, $240; health, $225; civil service, $60.

Other transfers include from the water fund, $4,321.50, including $2,000 for the filtration plant and $1,200 for wages; from refuse disposal, $1,850; from street maintenance, $3,975, including $2,000 for material and $650 for equipment hire; from sewage disposal, $425; from cemetery fund, $890; from parking meter fund, $50; from cemetery trust, $63; from water depreciation, $1,455, including $1,400 for equipment.

IN OTHER business, a letter was read from Davidson stating that the Georgetti River - Rail Terminal is only $450 in arrears on rental of city land instead of the $750 reported at the last meeting. He said a letter of apology has been sent Angelo Georgetti for any public embarrassment caused him by the announcement.

It was later pointed out that Georgetti made a payment of $300 Tuesday, leaving him $150, or one month, behind in the rent.

Councilman Frank DeLonzo asked Council to reconsider selling the city-owned property to Georgetti. Councilman William Stroble said he believes that Georgetti will continue with an announced plan to expand even if he does not obtain the ground.

He also pointed out the city would lose money over a 15-year period if the ground were sold.

Legislation authorizing the Board of Control to advertise the land for sale was then presented. It was tabled.

Legislation then was adopted authorizing the auditor to place the $150 monthly rental in the general fund. It has been paid into the sewage disposal fund as the river terminal is located on a section of the ground purchased when the city obtained the site for the sewage disposal plant.

350 At Yule Concert

SALINEVILLE — Some 350 attended the annual Christmas concert of Salineville band and choir groups Tuesday night at the high school. Charles Temple, director, and Oscar Gartrell, assistant director, were in charge.

Company coming? If salad is being served as a separate course, after the main dish, the salad plate should be placed (with the left hand) from the guest's left side.

Depreciation Fund Studied At Wellsville

Councilman Robert Taggart, water and sewage chairman, reported to Wellsville Council Tuesday night his committee is investigating the possibility of establishing a depreciation fund for the sewage disposal plant.

Such funds are used to make repairs and replace equipment. Taggart said although the plant is comparatively new, funds will be needed in the future.

He requested that Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Council clerk, notify Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, of the proposal. Miller was absent.

Taggart said a meeting will be held with the finance committee and auditor in the near future to discuss the proposal.

Councilwoman Kay Drago asked Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to investigate having a sign placed at 5th St. and Broadway, warning motorists that school children catch a bus in the area. He said he will check.

Councilman Frank DeLonzo asked that a sign be installed on the traffic signal at 15th and Main Sts. permitting west-bound traffic to make a left turn on red. He also mentioned a change in the signal system on Wells Ave. at Route 45. The street and light committee will investigate.

Councilman Allan Baldwin reported that flares around a street opening on Commerce St. were not burning. The opening was made by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and Harold Sneddon, general manager of the utility, who was in the audience, said he would notify a foreman to have them lighted.

Councilman William Stroble asked Sneddon why the gas rates are being cut. Sneddon said the proposed cut is provided for in a fuel cost clause.

Sneddon also said the utility is in the process of making leakage repairs on Commerce St. He also said three regulators have been changed in a station near Meade's Restaurant on the super - road which will halt odors in the future.

Stroble said he had received a complaint of low water pressure on Buckeye Ave. between 5th and 6ht Sts. A two-inch main services the area. The water committee was asked to investigate.

Stroble reviewed the accomplishments of the past year, congratulating the Board of Control, various committees, chairmen and Council as a whole.

He said the alleys are in good shape, Buckeye was repaired, Route 45 was repaired, many streets were repaired by contract, the city had a beautification program, the street sweeper was used extensively, the refuse department was brought out of the red, and the water fund was increased.

Stroble said the Board of Control, composed of Mayor William Daugherty and Baldasare, deserve a lot of credit. He also thanked everyone for doing a good job. Baldasare said six jobs were saved when the refuse service was retained.

A discussion was held on the possibility of incorporating outlying areas, including Russell Heights. Solicitor William Bush said it would be up to the residents of the areas to petition to be accepted.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said many are interested in the move.

Second reading was given legislation authorizing the solicitor to file a petition to intervene in hearings being held by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads.

Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, Jaycee president, was in the audience and Council extended its thanks to the Jaycees for their many civic projects.

Councilman Miller was absent. The Rev. Arden Beck gave the opening prayer.

Annual Transfer Of Funds Slated

The annual transfer of appropriations, totaling $19,210.50, to balance the various funds at the end of the year was approved by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The necessary legislation was passed under suspension of rules. Auditor Edgar S. Davidson said there is money in each individual fund included in the general fund. The transfers are from one section to another. None in the general fund is overdrawn at present.

HE POINTED out the auditor and treasurer funds are overdrawn as new checks had to be purchased. He said by purchasing the checks jointly, they saved the city $50. A total of 10,000 checks for each were obtained. They will last eight or 10 years. Davidson said this is the first time city checks have been purchased since he has been in office.

Questioned as to how much money the city operated on the past year, Davidson said overall it was under the total for last year. He said he is balancing the books now and will have the exact figures later.

He said he does not know if the general fund will end in the black nor if there will be enough money to meet all bills. The refuse fund will end in the black while the water fund may end in the red. The refuse fund ended in the red in 1961.

THE TOTALS transfered in the various departments covered by the general fund are as follows:

Clerk of Council, $130; mayor, $75; auditor, $330; floodwall, $1,000; police, $710, including $500 for special police and $100 for radio; fire, $780, including $300 for special police, $200 for utilities and $75 for the alarm system; service, $1,131, including $1,000 for liability insurance; sewers, $500; treasurer, $925; solicitor, $75; parks, $240; health, $225; civil service, $60.

Other transfers include from the water fund, $4,321.50, including $2,000 for the filtration plant and $1,200 for wages; from refuse disposal, $1,850; from street maintenance, $3,975, including $2,000 for material and $650 for equipment hire; from sewage disposal, $425; from cemetery fund, $890; from parking meter fund, $50; from cemetery trust, $63; from water depreciation, $1,455, including $1,400 for equipment.

IN OTHER business, a letter was read from Davidson stating that the Georgetti River - Rail Terminal is only $450 in arrears on rental of city land instead of the $750 reported at the last meeting. He said a letter of apology has been sent Angelo Georgetti for any public embarrassment caused him by the announcement.

It was later pointed out that Georgetti made a payment of $300 Tuesday, leaving him $150, or one month, behind in the rent.

Councilman Frank DeLonzo asked Council to reconsider selling the city-owned property to Georgetti. Councilman William Stroble said he believes that Georgetti will continue with an announced plan to expand even if he does not obtain the ground.

Crash Hurts Woman, Girl; Driver Cited

An 18-year-old driver was cited after a traffic mishap Tuesday night at 10:45 on Avondale St. which injured a passenger in his car and a Thompson Hill woman.

The crash involved a 1953 auto operated by Thomas Hoschar, 196 Charles St., and a 1963 model auto driven by Mrs. Rebecca Turk, 326 Thompson Ave., officers said.

Mrs. Turk was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the right knee and shoulder and the left wrist. Carolyn Hawk, 18, of Salineville R. D., a passenger in Hoschar's car, was treated for abrasions and contusions of the neck and knee and mild bruises of the lower lip.

Patrolman L. E. Richard cited Hoschar on a charge of driving without an operator's permit.

Arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Hoschar was granted a continuance until Dec. 31 to produce his operator's permit.

Officer Richard told the judge Hoschar said "he took the driver's test at Lisbon and received a paper authorizing him to drive, but lost it."

The judge told Hoschar he must produce the permit Dec. 31 "or be prepared to go to jail."

There was damage to the left front of each auto, police said. Hoschar said he was driving north on Avondale when Mrs. Turk's southbound auto skidded on ice and hit his car. Mrs. Turk told police she saw Hoschar approaching in the middle of the street. When she attempted to stop, her auto skidded, she said. She was driving a car owned by Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th St.

Bowersock left East Liverpool at 6:30 p. m. He had loaded 115 sacks of parcel mail at the annex and 35 pouches of first class mail at the Post Office on E. 5th St.

A stop was then made at Wellsville to pick up mail that had not been processed earlier in the day. He had a full load when he left there. He also loaded some mail from Hammondsville, Irondale and Salineville.

Bowersock said a motorist behind him started blowing his horn just as he left Toronto. A while later the driver pulled along side him and blowed again. Bowersock said he noticed the smoke coming from the rear when he pulled to the side of the highway.

The Toronto fire department was notified and quelled the fire. The mail then was transferred to another truck and taken on to Steubenville. No damage resulted to the vehicle.

Postmaster Brown said each scrap and piece of the burned mail will be salvaged and checked.

Payroll checks from a firm to a branch office were among the mail, but it is not known if they were destroyed.

When Baddeley returned home, the twins had arrived. The mother and sons were taken by ambulance to Salem City Hospital. The mother and children were reported "doing fine" today.

At the McAllister Store in Maplewood, the intruders ripped off several pieces of lumber that closed up an unused door. Apparently nothing was taken. The entry was timed between 10 last night and 8 this morning.

43 Agencies To Get Funds

Forty-three agencies affiliated with the United Funds of Beaver County will share in the 1963 allocations amounting to over $710,000, according to Harry C. Metzger, chairman of the admissions and allocations committee.

Metzger said this will represent an overall 8 per cent increase above the current year allocations and more than a 50 per cent increase over first - year allocations in 1960.

A total of $710,467 will be shared by 27 agencies operating on a countywide basis and 16 agencies serving the local areas. The agency allocations represent 92.5 per cent of the total campaign proceeds.

"Although we have continually increased our agency allocations during the past four years, we have by no means been able to meet the total needs of these agencies. Agency requests this year totaled almost $800,000," he said.

Among the allocations, the Midland Hot Stove League will receive $1,000 and the Raccoon Boys Club at Raccoon Creek Park, $500.

The allocations were the result of two days of conferences with each of the affiliated agencies in the United Funds admissions and allocations committee. The committee reviewed each agency budget and recommended the allocations on the basis of agency needs and available funds.

The Chicago White Sox had three of the American League's leading fielders in 1962. They were Joe Cunningham, Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio.

Murder Trial Review Held

BEAVER — A review of some of the facts concerning the death of Loretta Dean Schultz last July was being held this morning in the trial of Carroll Williams, ex-Monaca resident charged with the murder of the 23-year-old divorcee.

During the trial Tuesday afternoon in Beaver County Court, the defense tried to prove that Mrs. Schultz did not die of manual strangulation.

The jury was selected Monday.

Mrs. Schultz of Freedom R. D. 1 was the mother of two children and her body was found July 31 by a Crows Run Rd. woman near Conway. It was determined that she had died of strangulation.

Williams' statement in August was "that her death, being certainly an unintentional one and perhaps a natural one, occurred during the course of sexual activities."

Boys Nabbed After Unique Theft Series

Four East Liverpool boys, 16 and 17, have been cited to appear in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Jan. 7 after police broke up a unique shoplifting ring that made it a practice to steal merchandise, then take it to another store for a "refund."

Capt. Robert Pyle completed investigation of the case Tuesday afternoon after the boys admitted a series of thefts from six business places dating back to November.

The youths, all high school students, admitted minor thefts from King's Bargain Center, D.M. Ogilvie & Co., the A. & P. Supermarket, the World Book & Bible House, Montgomery Ward & Co. and Harmony House.

The loot included such things as sweaters, winter caps, cold remedies and books, Capt. Pyle said.

The boys made it a practice to take a stolen article to another business place that sold the same type of merchandise and attempt to turn it in for a "refund," the captain said.

The boys said some of the thievery took place on their lunch hour at school and other thefts were committed after school hours. They have been released in the custody of their parents to appear Jan. 7 at 9 a. m. before Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

The captain said he started the investigation Monday, based on information from a youth not involved in the ring, and completed work on the case yesterday afternoon.

Boys Nabbed After Unique Theft Series

Four East Liverpool boys, 16 and 17, have been cited to appear in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Jan. 7 after police broke up a unique shoplifting ring that made it a practice to steal merchandise, then take it to another store for a "refund."

Capt. Robert Pyle completed investigation of the case Tuesday afternoon after the boys admitted a series of thefts from six business places dating back to November.

The youths, all high school students, admitted minor thefts from King's Bargain Center, D.M. Ogilvie & Co., the A. & P. Supermarket, the World Book & Bible House, Montgomery Ward & Co. and Harmony House.

The loot included such things as sweaters, winter caps, cold remedies and books, Capt. Pyle said.

The boys made it a practice to take a stolen article to another business place that sold the same type of merchandise and attempt to turn it in for a "refund," the captain said.

The boys said some of the thievery took place on their lunch hour at school and other thefts were committed after school hours. They have been released in the custody of their parents to appear Jan. 7 at 9 a. m. before Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

The captain said he started the investigation Monday, based on information from a youth not involved in the ring, and completed work on the case yesterday afternoon.

County Board Hears Report For Projects

LISBON —Urton Anderson, high school consultant, reported on special projects at the meeting of the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night, commenting that several of the teachers are doing exceptional work.

His report concerned classroom visits in the four school districts during the month.

Asked for an opinion on how the different schools are doing as far as state requirements are concerned, he remarked that in certain phases several schools are doing outstanding jobs in their curriculums over and above state requirements, but in others "they are just getting by." Efforts are being made to bring them up to above average, if possible, he added.

In other business, Supt. James L. McBride reported on his remarks made at the national convention in Kansas this past summer which were printed in the national magazine, concerning the consolidation of school districts.

Insurance rates for band instruments were discussed and it was reported that if the schools would go together and combine coverage, the rate would be about 45 cents per $100 valuation. At present, some of the schools are paying as much as $1.05. It was suggested that a thorough study be made to see if schools can get a cheaper rate.

The board was told of plans for teachers to study various textbooks for elementary and high school curriculums then make recommendations for the best text with the board to approve adoptions for the four districts.

To transfer of funds in different accounts to balance out the books for 1962, where necessary, was approved.

The report of Fred Lohman, attendance officer was read, showing 28 home calls and 42 school calls and 1,003 miles travel during the month.

Bills of $707.58 were read and ordered paid. Next meeting is Jan. 15 at 8:30 p.m.

Commission To Study Job Test Applications

The Municipal Civil Service Commission has scheduled a meeting Thursday night at 8 to screen applications filed by seven patrolmen to compete in a test for a police department lieutenant's post, Donal I. Burcham, chairman, said today.

The examination will be held Dec. 27 at City Hall. The vacancy was created July 30 by the resignation of Thomas A. Walker. Nine competed in an exam Sept. 7, but the commission later ruled none had scored a passing grade.

The deadline for applications was Dec. 12. The post pays $435 monthly. Other commission members are A. A. Fiorello and Atty. Ben H. Berman. P. K. Calhoon is clerk.

A French recipe call for a bouquet garni? In a cheesecloth bag tie together a bay leaf, several peppercorns, a few cloves, some parsley sprigs and celery leaves and a sprig of thyme.

Optimism Seen For New Talks In Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—There was some optimism today that both sides would return soon to the bargaining table in an effort to end a Newspaper Guild strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

Hopes for resumption of talks in the 20-day-old strike were renewed Tuesday night. Representatives of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild agreed then to continue joint bargaining sessions with representatives of the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

The Guild announcement was made after a meeting behind closed doors with federal mediator Gilbert J. Seldin. Management was not represented at that session, but it indicated a short time later its willingness to resume negotiations.

Seldin has not yet scheduled a date for the next session.

Midland Drives To 5th, Crushes Beaver Falls 55-42

Newell Rolls To 5th Victory; Chester Notches First Win

Tigers Drop 1st; Sallis Leads Way

By ANDY NUZZO

The steady play of senior center Bill Sallis, combined with fine performances by sophomores Sim Hill and Ron Brown, sparked the Midland Leopards to a 55-42 victory over the rangy Beaver Falls Tigers before 1,500 fans at Midland Tuesday night.

Sallis, 6-2, meshed four field goals and six of seven free throws for 14 points besides pulling down 20 of the 56 Midland rebounds.

Hill, a 6-3 forward, contributed 12 points to the Leopard attack and helped Sallis with the board work, grabbing 11 rebounds. He scored eight of his points in the first period. Brown, a 6-2 forward, canned five of six field goals for 10 points. He hit five in a row before he missed.

—:—

THE WIN was the fifth straight of the season for Midland and extended the regular season winning streak of Hank Kuzma's Leopards to 32 games.

Coach Nate Lippe's Tiger five absorbed its first loss of the year against four wins.

Midland sank 36 per cent of its shots, hitting on 20 of 55 attempts. Beaver Falls connected on 14 of 52 for 28 per cent.

Leading the Tigers was John Kompa, 6-4 senior forward who bagged three field goals and nine of 11 free throws for 15 points. Senior center Clarence Hedge, 6-6, added 10 points on four field goals and two of six free throws. He grabbed 18 of the 37 Tiger rebounds.

—:—

SENIOR forward Harry Venik, 6-5, dealt a hot hand for Beaver Falls in the first half, dropping in eight markers, but he ran into foul trouble and did not score in the final two periods.

After taking a 25-23 lead to the dressing room at the half, the Leopards came out and poured in six quick points to take an eight point lead over the Tigers, who played the entire period without the services of Venik.

The turning point of the game came after Sallis had converted two free throws to give the Leopards a 36-28 lead with 3:43 remaining in the third period

—:—

TIGER GUARD Don Greco, 5-9, broke loose on a fast break, but his lay - up rolled around the rim and fell off.

Midland took advantage of this miss by scoring four quick points to move out to a 40-28 lead. The Tigers then went into a full - court press and scored two buckets to cut Midland's lead to eight, but when the Leopards got hold of the ball with less than a minute left they played for the last shot of the period.

This strategy paid off when sophomore guard Norman Vanlier, 5-8, swished a push shot from beyond the key and Midland took a 42-32 lead into the final period.

—:—

THE TIGERS could not catch the Leopards in the final period as Midland pulled away to their final margin of victory.

In a nip - and - tuck first half neither team was in the lead by more than five points.

Beaver Falls led only once in the entire game, that being at the outset of the contest when they jumped off to a quick 4-0 lead.

With the score knotted at 5-5, Hill took charge of the Midland attack and scored the last eight Midland points of the first quarter to give the Leopards a 13-11 first quarter lead.

IN THE second quarter the Tigers pulled even twice, but could never gain the lead. With 1:48 remaining in the first half, Sallis converted two free throws to give Midland a 25-23 lead they never relinquished.

The Leopards had foul trouble in the first half. Three players — Hill, Gary Perkins, and Henry Slappy — each picked up three personals by the half - way mark. Perkins was the only player to foul out of the game, departing with a little more than four minutes remaining.

In the preliminary, Ted Vaughn and Pete Cilli led Ed Olkowski's Midland jayvees to a 47-31 trouncing of the Tiger Reserves. Vaughn meshed 17 points and Cilli hit for 14.

On Friday the Leopards will travel to Aliquippa to take on the Quips in what promises to be a real hard - fought contest.

Machen Sent To Mental Hospital; Career Looms?

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—When boxer Eddie Machen parked his car Dec. 12 and began writing a note to explain why he wanted to kill himself, he may have written the ending of his fighting career.

Chances for his hope of a try in the foreseeable future at heavyweight champion Sonny Liston's title appeared gloomy Tuesday when Machen was committed to a state hospital for the mentally ill.

The 30-year-old contender—rated No. 1 heavyweight challenger by the World Boxing Association—was committed after a brief Superior Court hearing.

Napa State Hospital doctors described Machen as an "acute schizophrenic" and a "paranoid" in need of treatment and dangerous to himself and others.

THIS WAS TWO POINTS for Chester's Mike Elliott who had swiped the ball at midcourt and dribbled in for this left handed layup shot ahead of a Western Beaver defender during action Tuesday night at Chester. The Panthers downed Western Beaver, 53-48.

Wilt Pitches In 61 Points

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Zephyrs if you'll pardon the expression, are moving like the wind. For the Zephyrs, anyway.

The newest team in the National Basketball Association won its third straight game — the first time Chicago has ever won three in a row—Tuesday night 113-110 over the Detroit Pistons.

The Zephyrs, in third place in the Western Division by percentage points over the Pistons before the game, moved a full game ahead of Detroit, which absorbed its fourth straight loss and fell into the cellar.

In the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, the New York Knicks ended a three-game losing streak with a 103-102 decision over the Cincinnati Royals.

In San Francisco, the Warriors, who had lost 14 of 15 previous starts, moved out of the Western Division cellar with a 130-110 victory over the St. Louis Hawks as Wilt Chamberlain clicked for 61 points.

Davidson Pulls Upset Over Duke

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's top-ranked college basketball team had better watch out. The upset-hungry Davidson Wildcats may be loaded for Bearcat.

It's a sure thing Cincinnati, which has won 24 in a row and has a date with Dayton Thursday, will be more respectful when the teams meet on the Bearcats' court Saturday.

Because, Tuesday night, Davidson turned in one of the major upsets of the young campaign by knocking off second-ranked Duke 72-69 at Charlotte, N.C.

The setback was the Blue Devils' first in seven games and lifted Davidson's record to 5-1. Duke had won 52 of the 59 previous meetings between the teams including one by a 76-68 count three weeks ago.

Fred Hetzel and Bill Jarman sparked a tremendous team effort. Hetzel scored 27 points and Jarman 21. Art Heyman and Jeff Mullins each had 21 for Duke.

In other top games, sixth-ranked Colorado defeated Creighton 76-55; Vanderbilt routed Louisville 95-72; Memphis State upset Minnesota 78-70; UCLA beat Butler 81-68; Wake Forest came from behind to defeat Virginia 78-73; Oklahoma trounced Texas Tech 85-62 and Stanford edged Oregon 54-51.

Elsewhere, Tulsa set a school scoring record in defeating Adams State College of Colorado 107-54 at Tulsa; Oklahoma City downed North Texas State 79-63 at Denton, Tex.; Cornell romped over Syrcause 93-77 at Ithaca, N.Y.

At Worcester, Mass., Holy Cross walloped St. Anselm's 85-64 and Rhode Island ran up its highest score in a decade while trouncing New Hampshire 121-92 at Kingston, R.I.

United Five Becomes Victim In Overtime

HANOVERTON — Ken Votaw sank a basket with 20 seconds remaining in regulation time giving United a 40-40 tie with Minerva but the Golden Eagles fell down in an overtime period to wind up on the losing end, 49-44, in a thriller here Tuesday night.

The contest was a makeup game postponed on Dec. 7 because of heavy snow.

After Votaw's heroics, which tied the game, Minerva zoomed into a 46-40 lead in the overtime and wound up with the five point advantage. The visitors scored seven fouls and a field goal in the overtime period.

Unied led at halftime 16-13 and trailed by one, 31-30 after three periods.

Bill McGranahan and Votaw shared scoring honors for United with 13 each while Dave Simms dropped in 14 and his brother Larry garnered 11.

United now stands 1-3 for the season.

Minerva's reserve team made it a clean sweep with a 64-50 win.

Machen Sent To Mental Hospital; Career Looms?

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—When boxer Eddie Machen parked his car Dec. 12 and began writing a note to explain why he wanted to kill himself, he may have written the ending of his fighting career.

Chances for his hope of a try in the foreseeable future at heavyweight champion Sonny Liston's title appeared gloomy Tuesday when Machen was committed to a state hospital for the mentally ill.

The 30-year-old contender—rated No. 1 heavyweight challenger by the World Boxing Association—was committed after a brief Superior Court hearing.

Napa State Hospital doctors described Machen as an "acute schizophrenic" and a "paranoid" in need of treatment and dangerous to himself and others.

Davidson Pulls Upset Over Duke

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's top-ranked college basketball team had better watch out. The upset-hungry Davidson Wildcats may be loaded for Bearcat.

It's a sure thing Cincinnati, which has won 24 in a row and has a date with Dayton Thursday, will be more respectful when the teams meet on the Bearcats' court Saturday.

Because, Tuesday night, Davidson turned in one of the major upsets of the young campaign by knocking off second-ranked Duke 72-69 at Charlotte, N.C.

The setback was the Blue Devils' first in seven games and lifted Davidson's record to 5-1. Duke had won 52 of the 59 previous meetings between the teams including one by a 76-68 count three weeks ago.

Fred Hetzel and Bill Jarman sparked a tremendous team effort. Hetzel scored 27 points and Jarman 21. Art Heyman and Jeff Mullins each had 21 for Duke.

In other top games, sixth-ranked Colorado defeated Creighton 76-55; Vanderbilt routed Louisville 95-72; Memphis State upset Minnesota 78-70; UCLA beat Butler 81-68; Wake Forest came from behind to defeat Virginia 78-73; Oklahoma trounced Texas Tech 85-62 and Stanford edged Oregon 54-51.

Elsewhere, Tulsa set a school scoring record in defeating Adams State College of Colorado 107-54 at Tulsa; Oklahoma City downed North Texas State 79-63 at Denton, Tex.; Cornell romped over Syracuse 93-77 at Ithaca, N.Y.

At Worcester, Mass., Holy Cross walloped St. Anselm's 85-64 and Rhode Island ran up its highest score in a decade while trouncing New Hampshire 121-92 at Kingston, R.I.

Wilt Pitches In 61 Points

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Zephyrs if you'll pardon the expression, are moving like the wind. For the Zephyrs, anyway.

The newest team in the National Basketball Association won its third straight game — the first time Chicago has ever won three in a row—Tuesday night 113-110 over the Detroit Pistons.

The Zephyrs, in third place in the Western Division by percentage points over the Pistons before the game, moved a full game ahead of Detroit, which absorbed its fourth straight loss and fell into the cellar.

In the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, the New York Knicks ended a three-game losing streak with a 103-102 decision over the Cincinnati Royals.

In San Francisco, the Warriors, who had lost 14 of 15 previous starts, moved out of the Western Division cellar with a 130-110 victory over the St. Louis Hawks as Wilt Chamberlain clicked for 61 points.

United Five Becomes Victim In Overtime

HANOVERTON — Ken Votaw sank a basket with 20 seconds remaining in regulation time giving United a 40-40 tie with Minerva but the Golden Eagles fell down in an overtime period to wind up on the losing end, 49-44, in a thriller here Tuesday night.

The contest was a makeup game postponed on Dec. 7 because of heavy snow.

After Votaw's heroics, which tied the game, Minerva zoomed into a 46-40 lead in the overtime and wound up with the five point advantage. The visitors scored seven fouls and a field goal in the overtime period.

Unied led at halftime 16-13 and trailed by one, 31-30 after three periods.

Bill McGranahan and Votaw shared scoring honors for United with 13 each while Dave Simms dropped in 14 and his brother Larry garnered 11.

United now stands 1-3 for the season.

Minerva's reserve team made it a clean sweep with a 64-50 win.

Carnes Nets 24 Points In Lopsided Win

WEST LIBERTY — New Cumberland High School's undefeated cagers pulled off one of them most lopsided victories in the school's history by routing a very small West Liberty team, 72-17 here Tuesday night.

The tallest player on the West Liberty starting five only stood 5-foot-9 and the taller and much faster Blue Raiders had little trouble notching their fifth straight victory in as many starts.

The first quarter was slow with New Cumberland only taking a 10-5 lead but in the next 24 minutes, Coach John Kuzio's team went on to score 62 points.

At halftime, New Cumberland held a 28-9 margin and owned a 45-11 advantage at the end of three periods.

Sophomore Dennis Carnes flipped in 24 points without any trouble to pace the Raiders while Tom McKitrick wound up with 10.

West Liberty was held to only three field goals and made 11 of 24 foul tries. Olson dropped in eight points, all from the foul line, to lead the badly beaten home team.

No reserve game was played Tuesday.

Westgate Edges East Junior, 40-36

Winters' 12 Points Pace West To 3rd

Westgate and East Junior, known for their nip and tuck battles, staged another Tuesday afternoon before a packed house in East End and when it was over, Westgate came out on top by a 40-36 count.

The narrow victory was the third straight for Coach Dan Fisher's squad while East now stands even with a 2-2 showing.

East Junior claimed an 8-7 first period lead but Westgate bounced back to hold the slim one point margin, 16-15 at halftime. The city rivlas went into the final period with the Wildcats in front 31-29.

In the fourth quarter, East went in front by a point but Westgate scored to make it 38-36 then John D'Allessio dropped in two foul shots after the game was over for the four point margin.

Chuck Winters was the big gun in the Westgate win scoring 12 points and drawing praise from his coach for his defensive work. Jerry Vaughn and Mike McFarland added eight points each for the Wildcats.

Ken Johnson's 12 points and a 10-point effort by Dan Roach topped the Panthers.

Each team lost three players by the foul route.

10 Falls Rout Big Red

Beaver Local Wrestlers Post Perfect 55-0 Score

Coach Jack O'Rourke has been head wrestling coach at Beaver Local for five years, but he had never seen his team record a perfect score in wrestling, that is until Tuesday night.

Beaver Local posted the perfect score of 55-0 over a visiting Steubenville Big Red. To gain a perfect total, all matches must end in pins. Ten of the matches were decided by falls while one went into the books as a forfeit, but nevertheless five points are awarded for a forfeit.

Going right down the list from 103 pounds to heavyweight, Jim Obney started the rout with a pin in 3:06 followed by Farnum Shasteen's forfeit victory in the 112 pound match.

Falls were recorded by Bill Tychonevich (120) in 2:35; Lester McKenzie (127) in 2:46; Mike Fisher (133) in 3 minutes; Joe Hoppel (138) in 4:51; Gary Bookman (145) in 3:10; Shirl Grimm (154 in 1:31; Jim Moffett (165) in 2:32; Keith Berger (175) in 2:35 and Ken Matheny (heavyweight) in 5:27.

Bridgeport visits Beaver Local Thursday for a 7:30 match. Last night's victory was the third straight for the Beavers.

The results follow:

103 — Obney (BL) pinned Burchfield (S) 3:06.
112 — Shasteen (BL) won by forfeit.
120 — Tychonevich (BL) pinned McCamic (S) 2:35.
127 — McKenzie (BL) pinned Watson (S) 2:46.
133 — Fisher (BL) pinned Marinelli (S) 3:00.
138 — Hoppel (BL) pinned Jackson (S) 4:51.
145 — Bookman (BL) pinned Stern (S) 3:10.
154 — Grimm (BL) pinned Moore (S) 1:31.
165 — Moffett (BL) pinned Simmons (S) 2:32.
175 — Berger (BL) pinned Smith (S) 2:35.

Anderson's Team Is 4-0

Falcons Eye More Honors In Quaker City Tourney

By HAL PARIS

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Bowling Green, bouncing along the basketball trail at a merry clip, shoots for more honors next week at the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia.

The unbeaten Falcons already have swept past four opponents in convincing style. A championship in the holiday tournament would boost Bowling Green's national stock and give the BeeGees a good shot at breaking into the elite category—the Top Ten.

Coach Harold Anderson's nifty squad showed plenty of class last Saturday when it raced to an easy 83-58 triumph over tough Western Kentucky.

Among other things, the victory marked the first time a Bowling Green team had beaten the Hilltoppers on the loser's floor; it was the worst home court defeat in 16 years for Western and it snapped a 29-game home winning streak for the Kentuckians.

The Falcons are led by 6-foot-11 Nate Thurmond and 6-1 Howard Komives, a tremendous 1-2 punch that has left opponents reeling.

Thurmond, for example, poured in 25 points and grabbed 28 rebounds in the Western tiff. This lanky senior, one of the finest defensive players in the country, has averaged 17.2 rebounds and 16.7 points a game in his last two seasons.

Komives, a southpaw standout who set a school record as a soph with 526 points, has a deadly jump shot and last year hit on 45 per cent of his shots. His .859 accuracy from the free throw line ranked him seventh in the nation.

Anderson, whose teams have won 485 games in 28 years going into this season, has 12 lettermen back from last year's squad which turned in a gaudy 21-4 mark en route to the Mid-American Conference title.

The Falcons have speed, backboard strength, a good bench and are stingy defensively. Last year, they allowed only 61.4 points a game, good enough for 16th in the country.

Other top performers include Wavey Junior and Elijah Chatman, who are valuable boardmen and good scorers.

Perhaps the real test will come next week when Bowling Green tangles with St. Joseph's in a first round tournament game. If the BeeGees get by this one, they'll have to beat back the challege of the other competitors in the meet—Providence, Delaware, Manhattan, Villanova, LaSalle and Brigham Young.

Denver Grid Boss Is AFL Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Faulkner, an assistant to Sid Gillman for 13 years at Cincinnati, San Diego and Los Angeles, made good on his own with the Denver Broncos in 1962 and today was named Coach-of-the-Year in the American Football League. The selection was made for The Associated Press by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the eight league cities.

Although the Broncos faltered in the stretch and lost five in a row after winning seven of their first nine games, Faulkner did a man-sized job in his first year at Denver.

Frank Tripucka's passing to Lionel Taylor and Bo Dickinson and the work of Gene Mingo, who led the league in scoring with 137 points, gave the Broncs a solid punch. They were the mid-season sensations until they lost to Boston in mid-November and then went into a tailspin that saw them drop two to Dallas and one each to Houston and New York, and wind up second in the Western Division. The defeat by the Titans on Thanksgiving Day, 46-45, was particularly disheartening before the home fans. The Broncos finally finished at 7-7, three games behind Dallas.

Sonny, Patterson, Johansson And Clay

Liston Suggests Holding Round Robin Of Heavies

TORONTO (AP) — Champion Sonny Liston, although he said he didn't think the best of them would last two rounds with him, Tuesday night suggested a heavyweight round-robin series involving himself, former champions Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson and brash Cassius Clay.

Liston, appearing on Canadian television, said the best idea would be for promoters to match him against Johansson and Patterson against Clay.

The winners of these two bouts would then meet for the title, he said.

Liston ran all three of them down, however.

He said he doubted the public could be sold on a rematch with Patterson following his one-round knockout of the former champion.

"People listen to his mouth, but they don't watch him fight," Liston said of Clay, the talkative challenger whose last victory was a "call-your-shot" fourth round KO of ancient Archie Moore.

"Johansson is the outstanding boy right now," said Liston, but he said he didn't think the Swede would last two rounds against him.

The champion said he did not doubt that a $1 million offer by Johansson's advisor, Edwin Ahlquest, to meet the Swede in Stockholm was legitimate.

"Ahlquest has that kind of money and even if he doesn't, Johansson could put it up himself," said Liston. "He was rich when he came over here and he got richer."

Liston said another obstacle to a rematch with Patterson is the money owed him from the first fight. He said the promoters failed to live up to their contract by paying him half his purse—$185,000—within 48 hours of the fight. He got only $100,000. The other half was to be held in escrow pending the second fight.

The U.S. government seized the receipts because of tax problems.

Liston said Clay has yet to prove his right to a title bout. He said he thought Clay would draw well against Patterson, however.

'Cookie' Is Named AFL's Top Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Cookie Gilchrist, a traveling man who was the first player to run for 1,000 yards in the American Football League, is the Player-of-the-Year in the three-year-old pro loop.

An Associated Press committee of writers and broadcasters from the eight league cities named the 243-pound fullback of the Buffalo Bills Tuesday.

"That's wonderful. The man deserves it," said Bills' coach Lou Saban.

Gilchrist spent nine years in Canadian football, playing with five teams in three leagues, before he found a home with the Bills last season.

"He helped bring the Bills from the bottom to near the top," said Saban.

The bruising fullback, now 27, went directly from high school to the Canadian League in 1954, when he was 19. He was finally waived out of that league by the Toronto Argonauts, with a reputation of being hard to handle.

The Bills reportedly paid him $20,000, and got their money's worth. Saban said Gilchrist has not signed his 1963 contract, and the honor "only makes it more difficult."

Gilchrist received 13 of the 24 votes cast by the AP committee. Len Dawson, the 27-year-old quarterback who led the Dallas Texans to the Western Division title, drew eight votes for second spot.

California Ready To Join World Ring Association

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California, which walked out of the National Boxing Association almost three years ago, announced today it will join the NBA's successor, the World Boxing Association.

But Chairman Douglas Hayden of the State Athletic Commission warned that California will walk out again if the WBA fails to come to grips with the sport's problems, mainly the need "to eliminate hoodlums and monopolists."

It was the old association's asserted failure to do anything about hoodlum influence that caused California to resign on Jan. 5, 1960.

California's decision will leave only one state—New York—outside the World Boxing Association.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown agreed with the Athletic Commission's decision, saying "California's reentering the WBA will permit it to achieve more effective regulation than before."

Hayden said "The inadequacies which caused our resignation... have now largely been removed."

But he indicated state officials reserved judgment on the WBA's ability to regulate the sport.

"The commission can always vote to leave if the world organization does not live up to our expectations," he said.

And the commission stressed its decision was based largely on a high opinion of the association's president, Dr. Charles Larson of Tacoma, Wash.

Only four National League players took part in all their team's games last season. They were Maury Wills of the Dodgers, Dick Groat of the Pirates, Frank Robinson of the Reds and Ron Santo of the Cubs.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

According to news releases, the deer kill was down this year, not because of the scarcity of the animals but due to the heavy snows in northeastern Ohio, making it practically impossible for Ohio nimrods to get at them.

Going was really rough in Columbiana County, with secondary roads being almost impassable. Snow was deep enough to make moving around a tiring experience and the extremely cold weather hard to endure.

"Rudolph the red - nosed reindeer" had nothing on the nimrods after a few minutes in the field.

Actually, hunters' noses and cheeks were as red as a beet after exposure to the elements.

In spite of all odds, with the hunting pressure being down, the deer kill was about normal for this county. Twenty-nine deer went through the aging stations.

—:—

ACCORDING TO the official check, 20 fawns were taken and 9 adult deer of both sexes. This means we have ample brood stock left over for next year. Not one trophy buck was taken, neither did I see a deer that would go 200 pounds. Even so, many hunters reported big bucks out of gun range.

Among the successful hunters was Mary Jane Foster, who resides near Negley. She checked her doe through the aging station in Columbiana. The deer was taken on her own property.

Joseph Hrovatic and Joseph Hrovatic, Jr. of R.D. 3, Salem, both bagged does. Tom Pike of Guilford Lake brought in the biggest buck I saw, but he would not reach the 200-pound class. It was a 5-pointer with a small rack.

—:—

ONE HUNTER heads the class in hard luck. Carl McCartney of Salem has hunted deer with a bow and arrow for the past several seasons without ever getting a good shot at one.

Before the gun season he was within close range of a big buck. "This is it," he thought. There was a powerful draw on the bow, the string snapped, but the buck just ambled away.

That isn't all that happened to him. Just before the gun season opened he was still in pursuit of deer when he slipped off a log and hurt his back.

That prevented him from getting in on the gun season. Carl said: "I had my stand all picked out for the first day." He knew where the deer crossing would be. Another hunter took his stand and bagged his deer. He is now reconciled to the fact it just isn't in the books for him to get a deer.

Steers 'Rope' Sixth Straight In ABL Play

By The Associated Press

This seems to be break-up time in the American Basketball League with three hot-shots steering the Kansas City Steers toward another first place finish.

Bill Bridges, Gene Tormohlen and Larry Staverman, each of whom has taken turns triggering the Steers to victory, formed an unbeatable trio Tuesday night as they rallied Kansas City to a 119-106 triumph over Philadelphia in the only ABL game scheduled.

It was the Steers' sixth straight victory and it stretched their lead to two full games over runner-up Long Beach.

Bridges wound up with 35 points, Tormohlen with 31, and Staverman with 22.

Carnes Nets 24 Points In Lopsided Win

WEST LIBERTY — New Cumberland High School's undefeated cagers pulled off one of them most lopsided victories in the school's history by routing a very small West Liberty team, 72-17 here Tuesday night.

The tallest player on the West Liberty starting five only stood 5-foot-9 and the taller and much faster Blue Raiders had little trouble notching their fifth straight victory in as many starts.

The first quarter was slow with New Cumberland only taking a 10-5 lead but in the next 24 minutes, Coach John Kuzio's team went on to score 62 points.

At halftime, New Cumberland held a 28-9 margin and owned a 45-11 advantage at the end of three periods.

Sophomore Dennis Carnes flipped in 24 points without any trouble to pace the Raiders while Tom McKitrick wound up with 10.

West Liberty was held to only three field goals and made 11 of 24 foul tries. Olson dropped in eight points, all from the foul line, to lead the badly beaten home team.

No reserve game was played Tuesday.

Beaver Local Wrestlers Post Perfect 55-0 Score

Coach Jack O'Rourke has been head wrestling coach at Beaver Local for five years, but he had never seen his team record a perfect score in wrestling, that is until Tuesday night.

Beaver Local posted the perfect score of 55-0 over a visiting Steubenville Big Red. To gain a perfect total, all matches must end in pins. Ten of the matches were decided by falls while one went into the books as a forfeit, but nevertheless five points are awarded for a forfeit.

Going right down the list from 103 pounds to heavyweight, Jim Obney started the rout with a pin in 3:06 followed by Farnum Shasteen's forfeit victory in the 112 pound match.

Falls were recorded by Bill Tychonevich (120) in 2:35; Lester McKenzie (127) in 2:46; Mike Fisher (133) in 3 minutes; Joe Hoppel (138) in 4:51; Gary Bookman (145) in 3:10; Shirl Grimm (154 in 1:31; Jim Moffett (165) in 2:32; Keith Berger (175) in 2:35 and Ken Matheny (heavyweight) in 5:27.

The results follow:

Winters' 12 Points Pace West To 3rd

Westgate and East Junior, known for their nip and tuck battles, staged another Tuesday afternoon before a packed house in East End and when it was over, Westgate came out on top by a 40-36 count.

The narrow victory was the third straight for Coach Dan Fisher's squad while East now stands even with a 2-2 showing.

East Junior claimed an 8-7 first period lead but Westgate bounced back to hold the slim one point margin, 16-15 at halftime. The city rivlas went into the final period with the Wildcats in front 31-29.

In the fourth quarter, East went in front by a point but Westgate scored to make it 38-36 then John D'Allessio dropped in two foul shots after the game was over for the four point margin.

Chuck Winters was the big gun in the Westgate win scoring 12 points and drawing praise from his coach for his defensive work. Jerry Vaughn and Mike McFarland added eight points each for the Wildcats.

Ken Johnson's 12 points and a 10-point effort by Dan Roach topped the Panthers.

Each team lost three players by the foul route.

Falcons Eye More Honors In Quaker City Tourney

By HAL PARIS

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Bowling Green, bouncing along the basketball trail at a merry clip, shoots for more honors next week at the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia.

The unbeaten Falcons already have swept past four opponents in convincing style. A championship in the holiday tournament would boost Bowling Green's national stock and give the BeeGees a good shot at breaking into the elite category—the Top Ten.

Coach Harold Anderson's nifty squad showed plenty of class last Saturday when it raced to an easy 83-58 triumph over tough Western Kentucky.

Among other things, the victory marked the first time a Bowling Green team had beaten the Hilltoppers on the loser's floor; it was the worst home court defeat in 16 years for Western and it snapped a 29-game home winning streak for the Kentuckians.

The Falcons are led by 6-foot-11 Nate Thurmond and 6-1 Howard Komives, a tremendous 1-2 punch that has left opponents reeling.

Thurmond, for example, poured in 25 points and grabbed 28 rebounds in the Western tiff. This lanky senior, one of the finest defensive players in the country, has averaged 17.2 rebounds and 16.7 points a game in his last two seasons.

Komives, a southpaw standout who set a school record as a soph with 526 points, has a deadly jump shot and last year hit on 45 per cent of his shots. His .859 accuracy from the free throw line ranked him seventh in the nation.

Anderson, whose teams have won 485 games in 28 years going into this season, has 12 lettermen back from last year's squad which turned in a gaudy 21-4 mark en route to the Mid-American Conference title.

The Falcons have speed, backboard strength, a good bench and are stingy defensively. Last year, they allowed only 61.4 points a game, good enough for 16th in the country.

Other top performers include Wavey Junior and Elijah Chatman, who are valuable boardmen and good scorers.

Perhaps the real test will come next week when Bowling Green tangles with St. Joseph's in a first round tournament game. If the BeeGees get by this one, they'll have to beat back the challege of the other competitors in the meet—Providence, Delaware, Manhattan, Villanova, LaSalle and Brigham Young.

Denver Grid Boss Is AFL Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Faulkner, an assistant to Sid Gillman for 13 years at Cincinnati, San Diego and Los Angeles, made good on his own with the Denver Broncos in 1962 and today was named Coach-of-the-Year in the American Football League. The selection was made for The Associated Press by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the eight league cities.

Although the Broncos faltered in the stretch and lost five in a row after winning seven of their first nine games, Faulkner did a man-sized job in his first year at Denver.

Frank Tripucka's passing to Lionel Taylor and Bo Dickinson and the work of Gene Mingo, who led the league in scoring with 137 points, gave the Broncs a solid punch. They were the mid-season sensations until they lost to Boston in mid-November and then went into a tailspin that saw them drop two to Dallas and one each to Houston and New York, and wind up second in the Western Division. The defeat by the Titans on Thanksgiving Day, 46-45, was particularly disheartening before the home fans. The Broncos finally finished at 7-7, three games behind Dallas.

Liston Suggests Holding Round Robin Of Heavies

TORONTO (AP) — Champion Sonny Liston, although he said he didn't think the best of them would last two rounds with him, Tuesday night suggested a heavyweight round-robin series involving himself, former champions Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson and brash Cassius Clay.

Liston, appearing on Canadian television, said the best idea would be for promoters to match him against Johansson and Patterson against Clay.

The winners of these two bouts would then meet for the title, he said.

Liston ran all three of them down, however.

He said he doubted the public could be sold on a rematch with Patterson following his one-round knockout of the former champion.

"People listen to his mouth, but they don't watch him fight," Liston said of Clay, the talkative challenger whose last victory was a "call-your-shot" fourth round KO of ancient Archie Moore.

"Johansson is the outstanding boy right now," said Liston, but he said he didn't think the Swede would last two rounds against him.

The champion said he did not doubt that a $1 million offer by Johansson's advisor, Edwin Ahlquest, to meet the Swede in Stockholm was legitimate.

"Ahlquest has that kind of money and even if he doesn't, Johansson could put it up himself," said Liston. "He was rich when he came over here and he got richer."

Liston said another obstacle to a rematch with Patterson is the money owed him from the first fight. He said the promoters failed to live up to their contract by paying him half his purse—$185,000—within 48 hours of the fight. He got only $100,000. The other half was to be held in escrow pending the second fight.

The U.S. government seized the receipts because of tax problems.

Liston said Clay has yet to prove his right to a title bout. He said he thought Clay would draw well against Patterson, however.

'Cookie' Is Named AFL's Top Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Cookie Gilchrist, a traveling man who was the first player to run for 1,000 yards in the American Football League, is the Player-of-the-Year in the three-year-old pro loop.

An Associated Press committee of writers and broadcasters from the eight league cities named the 243-pound fullback of the Buffalo Bills Tuesday.

"That's wonderful. The man deserves it," said Bills' coach Lou Saban.

Gilchrist spent nine years in Canadian football, playing with five teams in three leagues, before he found a home with the Bills last season.

"He helped bring the Bills from the bottom to near the top," said Saban.

The bruising fullback, now 27, went directly from high school to the Canadian League in 1954, when he was 19. He was finally waived out of that league by the Toronto Argonauts, with a reputation of being hard to handle.

The Bills reportedly paid him $20,000, and got their money's worth. Saban said Gilchrist has not signed his 1963 contract, and the honor "only makes it more difficult."

Gilchrist received 13 of the 24 votes cast by the AP committee. Len Dawson, the 27-year-old quarterback who led the Dallas Texans to the Western Division title, drew eight votes for second spot.

California Ready To Join World Ring Association

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California, which walked out of the National Boxing Association almost three years ago, announced today it will join the NBA's successor, the World Boxing Association.

But Chairman Douglas Hayden of the State Athletic Commission warned that California will walk out again if the WBA fails to come to grips with the sport's problems, mainly the need "to eliminate hoodlums and monopolists."

It was the old association's asserted failure to do anything about hoodlum influence that caused California to resign on Jan. 5, 1960.

California's decision will leave only one state—New York—outside the World Boxing Association.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown agreed with the Athletic Commission's decision, saying "California's reentering the WBA will permit it to achieve more effective regulation than before."

Hayden said "The inadequacies which caused our resignation... have now largely been removed."

But he indicated state officials reserved judgment on the WBA's ability to regulate the sport.

"The commission can always vote to leave if the world organization does not live up to our expectations," he said.

And the commission stressed its decision was based largely on a high opinion of the association's president, Dr. Charles Larson of Tacoma, Wash.

Only four National League players took part in all their team's games last season. They were Maury Wills of the Dodgers, Dick Groat of the Pirates, Frank Robinson of the Reds and Ron Santo of the Cubs.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

According to news releases, the deer kill was down this year, not because of the scarcity of the animals but due to the heavy snows in northeastern Ohio, making it practically impossible for Ohio nimrods to get at them.

Going was really rough in Columbiana County, with secondary roads being almost impassable. Snow was deep enough to make moving around a tiring experience and the extremely cold weather hard to endure.

"Rudolph the red - nosed reindeer" had nothing on the nimrods after a few minutes in the field.

Actually, hunters' noses and cheeks were as red as a beet after exposure to the elements.

In spite of all odds, with the hunting pressure being down, the deer kill was about normal for this county. Twenty-nine deer went through the aging stations.

—:—

ACCORDING TO the official check, 20 fawns were taken and 9 adult deer of both sexes. This means we have ample brood stock left over for next year. Not one trophy buck was taken, neither did I see a deer that would go 200 pounds. Even so, many hunters reported big bucks out of gun range.

Among the successful hunters was Mary Jane Foster, who resides near Negley. She checked her doe through the aging station in Columbiana. The deer was taken on her own property.

Joseph Hrovatic and Joseph Hrovatic, Jr. of R.D. 3, Salem, both bagged does. Tom Pike of Guilford Lake brought in the biggest buck I saw, but he would not reach the 200-pound class. It was a 5-pointer with a small rack.

—:—

ONE HUNTER heads the class in hard luck. Carl McCartney of Salem has hunted deer with a bow and arrow for the past several seasons without ever getting a good shot at one.

Before the gun season he was within close range of a big buck. "This is it," he thought. There was a powerful draw on the bow, the string snapped, but the buck just ambled away.

That isn't all that happened to him. Just before the gun season opened he was still in pursuit of deer when he slipped off a log and hurt his back.

That prevented him from getting in on the gun season. Carl said: "I had my stand all picked out for the first day." He knew where the deer crossing would be. Another hunter took his stand and bagged his deer. He is now reconciled to the fact it just isn't in the books for him to get a deer.

Steers 'Rope' Sixth Straight In ABL Play

By The Associated Press

This seems to be break-up time in the American Basketball League with three hot-shots steering the Kansas City Steers toward another first place finish.

Bill Bridges, Gene Tormohlen and Larry Staverman, each of whom has taken turns triggering the Steers to victory, formed an unbeatable trio Tuesday night as they rallied Kansas City to a 119-106 triumph over Philadelphia in the only ABL game scheduled.

It was the Steers' sixth straight victory and it stretched their lead to two full games over runner-up Long Beach.

Bridges wound up with 35 points, Tormohlen with 31, and Staverman with 22.

Anti-Liquor Unit Mounts Drive In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's anti-liquor forces have mounted a legislative campaign designed to close down establishments selling liquor by the drink.

The group, known as West Virginia United Church Alcohol Action, Inc., has sent letters to state legislators suggesting that the recent statewide referendum showed a majority of West Virginians want illegal liquor outlets closed.

The letters add that lawmakers might consider that possession of federal alcoholic beverage stamps by such establishments as in violation of state laws against liquor by the drink.

Another proposal is that each liquor store customer be required to identify himself and tell where his purchase will be consumed.

The group also suggested that lawmakers debate possible measures to create alcoholic rehabilitation centers; consider taxes on alcoholic drinks for support of such centers, and consider an "implied consent law" whereby police can require a person suspected of driving while intoxicated to submit to a blood test.

Republicans Ask 'Equal Time' For President's Chat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee plans to ask the radio and television networks for a "comparable" form to offset President Kennedy's national rocking chair interview.

But whom the Republicans would put on the airways to speak for the GOP—assuming the forum is granted—is uncertain.

The Republican most frequently mentioned by members of his party is former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. But Eisenhower worked hard for the GOP in the recent campaign, and there is some reluctance to ask him to assume a big new task.

Republican reaction to Kennedy's taped Monday night radio and television interview perhaps is best summarized by Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, a veteran of 24 years in Congress.

"It was the cleverest piece of political public relations I have ever seen," Brown said. "The President handled himself very ably."

However, Brown added, "Many of the President's statement could be subject to further discussion."

The Republican National Committee laid the groundwork for a comparable forum with a statement issued Tuesday by its public relations director, William B. Sprague Jr.

Man Draws Fine Of $200

LISBON—A 24-year-old Youngstown man was fined and given a suspended jail sentence at a hearing Tuesday afternoon before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of 17-year old Negley girl.

Charles Mulligan was fined $200 and costs and received a suspended four-month jail sentence under the following conditions.

That he stay out of Columbiana County for two years, not associate with any girl under 18, be of good behavior and obey all laws.

He admitted intimacies with the girl but claimed he didn't know her age.

The girl was placed on probation to her mother and the judge warned the parent she will be cited for contempt if there is any violations of terms granted her daughter.

The girl was required to surrender her driver's license and ordered not to enter any establishment where intoxicants are sold, abstain from dating until 18, attend school regularly and be of general good behavior.

The judge criticized Mahoning County authorities for not taking action as the girl and a 16-year-old companion ran away to Youngstown and several of Mulligan's friends bought clothing for them and tried to induce them to enter into prostitution, in November, the judge said.

The offenses occurred in motels and rooming houses and Mahoning officials were advised and given information but took no action, Judge Tobin said.

Pughtown Class To Give Baskets

Plans were approved to prepare Christmas baskets for shutins and get-well cards were signed for ill members when the Friendship Class of the Fairview Presbyterian Church of Pughtown met Monday night with Mrs. Janice Wright.

Mrs. Lucille Miller, president, presided. There was a discussion on holding bake sales. Plans were also approved to purchase Christmas flowers for the church.

The president read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. William Flurkey, church organist, for a music filing cabinet purchased for her by the class.

Committees for the new year were named. A gift exchange was held. Mrs. Betty Glenn and Mrs. Betty Mayhew led devotions.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Helen Louise Bailey, co-hostess. Next meeting is in January with Mrs. Jane Stover.

Wellsville Choral Concert Planned Friday

The annual Wellsville Christmas choral concert Friday night at 8 in the Beacom Memorial Gymnasium will be presented in memory of the late Dr. S. E. Daw, former superintendent of Wellsville schools.

The program, featuring the Junior and Senior High Choral department, will be under the direction of Miss Phyllis Zimmerman, vocal music director.

Six members of the choir are shown with one of the decorations created to promote the concert. From the left in the front row are Ellen Rodgers, Debbie Bemis and Janet Birch while standing in the rear are Jerry Stewart, Andy Dash and Sondra Jones.

The memoriam message will read "This concert is presented in memory of Dr. S. E. Daw, who did much to encourage good music in our schools." He was killed in an auto accident a year ago.

The opening will be a select group of junior high singers presenting "Christmas Around the World." Each will be dressed in costumes of the countries they represent and will sing the following numbers:

"The Happy Christmas Comes Once More" (Danish carol), "Lowly Shepherds of Judea" (Japanese carol), "Wake Up, O Shepherds" (Swiss carol), "Natali" (Italian carol), "He Is Born, The Little Jesus" (Polish carol); "Rise Up, Shepherd and Follow" (American spiritual), with Wanda Boggs as soloist; "Jesus, Jesus Rest Your Head" (American folk song), with Patrick Mason as soloist, and "Ding, Dong, Join a Merry Chime" (French carol).

Wanda Boggs and David Bush will be narrators. Other members of the group are Lin Thrasher, Brenda Hughye, Debbie Williams, Debbie Bemis, Ellen Rodgers and Kay Powell.

Miss Sara Holgate will play violin selections.

The Girls Chorus of the high school will sing "The Babe Of Bethlehem" (Danish carol), "Oh Christmas Night" (folk song arranged by Lewaas), and "The Virgin's Slumber Song" (Rogers).

The program will conclude with the Madrigal Singers, Boys Octet and the A Cappella Choir.

The section will begin with "O Come, O Come, Immanuel" (Gregorian chant), by the Boys Octet and a Scripture reading by Ken Dickinson, a choir member.

The A Cappella Choir will sing "A Child Is Born In Bethlehem" (Williams), "Lord Of Hosts" (Wennerberg — arr. Stranger" (Cassler), "Silent Night" (Gruber) and "Companions All Sing Loudly" (arranged by Kirk).

The Madrigal Singers will present "Thy Little Ones, Dear Lord Are We" (Danish carol).

The backdrop was designed and constructed by choir members, including Jerry Stewart, Jim Powell, Richard Rittman and Robert Lloyd. It is an abstract using various hues of purple, blue, red and pink in a circle form. The middle of the circle is a star, a cross and a cradle, each depicting a different part of the life of Christ.

The words "Unto Us a Son Is Given" are written across the backdrop. Programs will match the backdrop.

Sondra Jones, president of the Girls Chorus, will give the welcome.

The event is free to the public. A free-will offering will be taken.

A reception will follow at the First Christian Church for the A Cappella Choir members and their parents. Choir alumni since 1959 also are invited.

Mailing Rush In Full Swing

The East Liverpool and Wellsville Post Offices are well into the heaviest rush of the holiday season.

Approximately 200,000 pieces of mail were processed here Tuesday by postal employes, according to Postmaster Samuel W Brown.

Cancellations yesterday totaled 5,000. Approximately 211,000 pieces of mail were processed Monday and cancellations Monday totaled 96,100, compared to about 35,000 on Sunday, Brown said.

Machine cancellations at Wellsville up to and including Tuesday evening total 131,518 for the month. This is an increase of 6 per cent over the same period last year.

This figure does not include meter mail or permit mail, Postmaster Elmer Evans said.

The avalanche of mail is expected to see the carriers overloaded. Similar amounts of mail are expected today and Friday.

When Pope Gregory I sent out missionaries in 601, he counseled them to let converts weave the harmless features of winter pagan festivals into the spiritual fabric of the Christmas observance.

Crew Clears Ridges Of Ice

The street department used its grader Tuesday to clear away high ridges of ice in the middle of traffic lanes on Lisbon St. which had created a hazard, particularly in the Fisher Park area, Asst. Supt. Ed Bowersock said today.

The ridges had built up as an aftermath of the heavy snow last week. As weather warmed, they thawed slightly, spreading a thin glaze of ice on the blacktop. But the biggest danger was that the ridges would catch an auto's wheels and throw it into the opposite traffic lane, he explained.

Some of the heavy accumulation of ice on outlying streets resulted from mounds of snow built up when service stations, neighborhood stores and some householders cleared their driveways.

Piled to a great depth, the snow compacted under the wheels of passing cars and eventually froze into rough mounds of ice.

Bowersock said the street department used its new front-end loader yesterday to clear ice away from streets in the downtown area, including sections of W. 5th and 6th Sts. and Dresden Ave.

The ice was scraped off the pavement near the curbs, where it interfered with parking, and was loaded onto trucks to be hauled away.

Snow Blamed In Rise Of Claims By Jobless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation jumped from 18,789 in the week ended Dec. 8 to 31,478 in the week ended Dec. 15—but it was the weather which caused the big jump, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Crew Clears Ridges Of Ice

The street department used its grader Tuesday to clear away high ridges of ice in the middle of traffic lanes on Lisbon St. which had created a hazard, particularly in the Fisher Park area, Asst. Supt. Ed Bowersock said today.

The ridges had built up as an aftermath of the heavy snow last week. As weather warmed, they thawed slightly, spreading a thin glaze of ice on the blacktop. But the biggest danger was that the ridges would catch an auto's wheels and throw it into the opposite traffic lane, he explained.

Some of the heavy accumulation of ice on outlying streets resulted from mounds of snow built up when service stations, neighborhood stores and some householders cleared their driveways.

Piled to a great depth, the snow compacted under the wheels of passing cars and eventually froze into rough mounds of ice.

Bowersock said the street department used its new front-end loader yesterday to clear ice away from streets in the downtown area, including sections of W. 5th and 6th Sts. and Dresden Ave.

The ice was scraped off the pavement near the curbs, where it interfered with parking, and was loaded onto trucks to be hauled away.

Snow Blamed In Rise Of Claims By Jobless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation jumped from 18,789 in the week ended Dec. 8 to 31,478 in the week ended Dec. 15—but it was the weather which caused the big jump, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Bobby Richardson of the Yankees stole 11 bases in 1962.

Effect Seen In News Field

ITU Eyes New Publishing Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The future of the newspaper industry — and other publishing ventures — could be shaped by the outcome of the strike which has shut nine New York daily newspapers since Dec. 8.

The strike is being led by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union.

It has led to the belief in many quarters that the main goal of the strike is not just higher wages and other benefits but an effort by the ITU to make itself the dominant union in the rapidly changing newspaper industry.

For many years the ITU had this position, then lost it to the American Newspaper Guild — an organization of reporters, noncraft and clerical workers which the printers, by example and urging, had helped foster. In recent years it found itself following contract patterns set by the Guild.

If the strike is in fact a go-for-broke bid by the ITU, many publishers say it could tear the economic fabric of an industry which they claim is already under serious stress.

The possible industrywide implications have drawn special attention to the strike, which, involving combined circulation of almost six million, is big enough in its own right.

The union struck the New York Times, the Daily News, the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun. Then the Post, Mirror, Herald Tribune, Long Island Star-Journal and Long Island press shut down as members of the New York Publishers' Association. The Long Island Press is continuing to publish its Long Island editions.

Nearly 20,000 people are out of work, lost wages amount to about $3 million a week and lost revenue during the rich pre-Christmas advertising season, is estimated by the industry at $7 million a week.

The antagonists in the dispute are resolute.

Bertram Powers, 40, with brush-cropped, blond-gray hair, the president of Local 6, says "We're in this thing all the way."

Amory Bradford, 50, with salt-and-pepper hair and a hard-finished tweed suit, vice president of the Times and head of the publishers' negotiating committee, says "We are within a very short step of our absolute limit."

For a decade now in New York, the ITU has found itself treading the footsteps of a union it helped bring into being in the 1930s. ITU men had told reporters, clerical workers and other noncraft workers that they would have to organize if they hoped to get the kind of money and contract protections ITU men enjoyed.

They took the advice and formed the Guild. But in the early 1950s, in part because of an accident of the calendar, Guild rather than ITU contracts began to set the industry pattern.

The ITU, dating to the middle of the last century, grew restive.

Votes on ratifying what ITU men termed carbon-copy agreements melted until they were razor thin. Powers talked of a more militant effort, and members rallied around him.

After he took over in 1961, he promised that things could be different. When the Guild agreed last month to a package increase of about $8-$9 per week per man over two years, and returned from a one-paper strike, the ITU warned it wouldn't be bound this time by that settlement.

When the clock ran out on negotiations, the ITU was asking $18.45 weekly in wage increases over the two years plus other benefits the publishers say would cost another $19 or more.

Industry observers, studying the size of the ITU demand and the mood in which it was presented, question whether this is merely a matter of a tactics problem in one city—as Powers says it is.

Is it instead, the observers ask, a far bigger issue with implications for every newspaper over the country employing union help?

The ITU has fought to control the use of tape typesetting, in which perforated tape from a central point triggers linotype keyboards. The ITU also seeks to maintain control of processes that photographed copy, rather than metal type. This is called offset.

The publishers charge that protections against new processes all but wipe out savings. Unless money can be freed by such cost-cutting methods, these publishers say, there will be none to spread out as wage boosts. Competition from other media blocks higher advertising rates, they say.

And Bradford says that the ITU's printers have made fewer advances in output per manhour than any of the other nine unions on the Times.

If the ITU leadership and philosophy are embraced across the nation, publishers contend, many weak newspapers may be pushed into bankruptcy.

Powers, who lost a linotype job when the newspaper PM closed in the late 1940s, says he and his membership faced this possibility when they made their strike decision.

In any case, he said, "We can't take the position of being a partner to the sick papers and the antagonist to the rich ones."

Effect Seen In News Field

ITU Eyes New Publishing Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The future of the newspaper industry — and other publishing ventures — could be shaped by the outcome of the strike which has shut nine New York daily newspapers since Dec. 8.

The strike is being led by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union.

It has led to the belief in many quarters that the main goal of the strike is not just higher wages and other benefits but an effort by the ITU to make itself the dominant union in the rapidly changing newspaper industry.

For many years the ITU had this position, then lost it to the American Newspaper Guild — an organization of reporters, noncraft and clerical workers which the printers, by example and urging, had helped foster. In recent years it found itself following contract patterns set by the Guild.

If the strike is in fact a go-for-broke bid by the ITU, many publishers say it could tear the economic fabric of an industry which they claim is already under serious stress.

The possible industrywide implications have drawn special attention to the strike, which, involving combined circulation of almost six million, is big enough in its own right.

The union struck the New York Times, the Daily News, the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun. Then the Post, Mirror, Herald Tribune, Long Island Star-Journal and Long Island press shut down as members of the New York Publishers' Association. The Long Island Press is continuing to publish its Long Island editions.

Nearly 20,000 people are out of work, lost wages amount to about $3 million a week and lost revenue during the rich pre-Christmas advertising season, is estimated by the industry at $7 million a week.

The antagonists in the dispute are resolute.

Bertram Powers, 40, with brush-cropped, blond-gray hair, the president of Local 6, says "We're in this thing all the way."

Amory Bradford, 50, with salt-and-pepper hair and a hard-finished tweed suit, vice president of the Times and head of the publishers' negotiating committee, says "We are within a very short step of our absolute limit."

For a decade now in New York, the ITU has found itself treading the footsteps of a union it helped bring into being in the 1930s. ITU men had told reporters, clerical workers and other noncraft workers that they would have to organize if they hoped to get the kind of money and contract protections ITU men enjoyed.

They took the advice and formed the Guild. But in the early 1950s, in part because of an accident of the calendar, Guild rather than ITU contracts began to set the industry pattern.

The ITU, dating to the middle of the last century, grew restive.

Votes on ratifying what ITU men termed carbon-copy agreements melted until they were razor thin. Powers talked of a more militant effort, and members rallied around him.

After he took over in 1961, he promised that things could be different. When the Guild agreed last month to a package increase of about $8-$9 per week per man over two years, and returned from a one-paper strike, the ITU warned it wouldn't be bound this time by that settlement.

When the clock ran out on negotiations, the ITU was asking $18.45 weekly in wage increases over the two years plus other benefits the publishers say would cost another $19 or more.

Industry observers, studying the size of the ITU demand and the mood in which it was presented, question whether this is merely a matter of a tactics problem in one city—as Powers says it is.

Is it instead, the observers ask, a far bigger issue with implications for every newspaper over the country employing union help?

The ITU has fought to control the use of tape typesetting, in which perforated tape from a central point triggers linotype keyboards. The ITU also seeks to maintain control of processes that photographed copy, rather than metal type. This is called offset.

The publishers charge that protections against new processes all but wipe out savings. Unless money can be freed by such cost-cutting methods, these publishers say, there will be none to spread out as wage boosts. Competition from other media blocks higher advertising rates, they say.

And Bradford says that the ITU's printers have made fewer advances in output per manhour than any of the other nine unions on the Times.

If the ITU leadership and philosophy are embraced across the nation, publishers contend, many weak newspapers may be pushed into bankruptcy.

Powers, who lost a linotype job when the newspaper PM closed in the late 1940s, says he and his membership faced this possibility when they made their strike decision.

In any case, he said, "We can't take the position of being a partner to the sick papers and the antagonist to the rich ones."

Emerson Smith's Campaign Costs Listed As $1,713

The unsuccessful campaign of T. Emerson Smith of Salem for the county auditor's office at the Nov. 6 general election cost a total of $1,713, it was shown in two sworn statements of expenses filed Tuesday with the County Election Board.

The Smith for Auditor Committee, headed by Daniel Smith, reported contributions of $1,859 and expenditures of exactly the same amount. In a report of his personal expenses, Smith showed an outlay of $654.

The Salem Republican was defeated by Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, the Democratic incumbent.

Tax Cut Studied For Drug Firms In Prisoner Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is considering giving drug manufacturers a $25-million tax deduction on medicines donated for the proposed Cuban prisoner exchange.

Administration sources said that if this deduction is granted, it would be based on the wholesale value of drugs assembled for shipment to Cuba if Fidel Castro released 1,113 captives of the ill-fated 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. The retail value of the drugs is $32 million.

The tax deduction proposal was worked out within the administration after key members of Congress had made it clear they would not go along with the direct use of federal funds for the payment of what they called ransom.

Previously the administration had unsuccessfully sought clearance of influential members of the House and Senate appropriations committee to put up $13.5 million in available Central Intelligence Agency funds to pay for medical supplies.

It was stressed in administration quarters that the tax deduction proposal awaits final, official approval.

The unsuccessful campaign of T. Emerson Smith of Salem for the county auditor's office at the Nov. 6 general election cost a total of $1,713, it was shown in two sworn statements of expenses filed Tuesday with the County Election Board.

The Salem Republican was defeated by Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, the Democratic incumbent.

Tax Cut Studied For Drug Firms In Prisoner Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is considering giving drug manufacturers a $25-million tax deduction on medicines donated for the proposed Cuban prisoner exchange.

Administration sources said that if this deduction is granted, it would be based on the wholesale value of drugs assembled for shipment to Cuba if Fidel Castro released 1,113 captives of the ill-fated 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. The retail value of the drugs is $52 million.

The tax deduction proposal was worked out within the administration after key members of Congress had made it clear they would not go along with the direct use of federal funds for the payment of what they called ransom.

Previously the administration had unsuccessfully sought clearance of influential members of the House and Senate appropriations committee to put up $13.5 million in available Central Intelligence Agency funds to pay for medical supplies.

It was stressed in administration quarters that the tax deduction proposal awaits final, official approval.

City Resident Injured When Car Is Struck

A Lisbon St. man received a possible neck injury in a collision at Glenmoor late Tuesday morning, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said a car operated by Donald W. Harris, 26, of 1181 Lisbon St., headed north on Route 267, slowed for the intersection with the Y. & O. Rd. and was struck from behind by an auto operated by Robert Bruce Workman Jr., 30, of Lisbon R. D. 2.

The patrol said Workman's car skidded on the wet pavement.

Harris was slated for treatment by his family physican for a whiplash injury of the neck. There was considerable damage to both vehicles, the patrol said.

Workman was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Nicholas Zoellers, 23, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited for improper passing after his auto collided with a station wagon on Route 30 about a half mile south of Lisbon early Tuesday morning.

The patrol said Zoellers began to pass a northbound station wagon operated by Alice Hissom, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 2 and his car hit the left rear fender of her vehicle, causing considerable damage to both.

The driver of a pharmacy truck was cited Tuesday night after his truck collided with two parked autos in the LaCroft area.

Theodore Jarvis, 17, of 312 W. 5th St. told officers he was headed south on Route 267 when he rounded a curve and saw cars and people along the roadway and applied his brakes.

The truck, owned by M. E. McBurney, skidded into a parked 1954 coach owned by Virgil Mercer of New Waterford and Miriam Calhoun, 50, of 914 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Jarvis said there was another vehicle parked on the roadway in the opposite lane and a man in the middle of the road. Mercer told officers he was walking across the road when the truck suddenly approached.

High School Choir Provides Program Of Rotary Meeting

If members of the Rotary Club had difficulty in getting into the swing of the holiday season, chances are their spirits were lifted sky-high at Tuesday's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The 52-voice concert choir of East Liverpool High School presented an impressive program of Christmas songs under direction of Miss Arletta Helfrich.

Attired in new blue and white choir robes, the singers displayed smooth harmony in seven selections. The club joined in two other numbers to add a bit of volume.

A highlight was a bass solo by Bill Cregar whose voice was rich and steady in the spiritual, "Sweet Little Jesus Boy." He was described as an "outstanding" bass singer by Miss Helfrich.

The choir's selections included "There Is No Room" and "Deo Gracis" from a ceremony of carols; an American carol, "Break Forth Into Joy;" "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" (Bach), "O Holy Night," and "Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas."

Club members joined in singing "Winter Wonderland" and "White Christmas." A small group of choir members known as the "Madrigals" presented "Sleigh Ride."

Miss Mary Ann Siddel and Miss Anne Spore were accompanists.

A native of Wellsville, Miss Helfrich studied at Ohio State University and the University of Columbia and taught previously in Lima and Yonkers, N. Y. She was introduced by C. V. Hughes, program chairman.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, reminded that the club will meet Monday next week instead of Tuesday, and also Dec. 31 instead of Tuesday, Jan. 1. A student from Wales will speak at Monday's noon luncheon meeting in the hotel.

Know how to heat a can of kippered herring the easy way? Open can and place in a skillet; add enough hot water to come about halfway up the sides of the can. Cover the skillet and allow the water to simmer for about 15 minutes; by that time the kippers should be thoroughly hot — if they aren't simmer a little longer.

Theodore Jarvis, 17, of 312 W. 5th St. told officers he was headed south on Route 267 when he rounded a curve and saw cars and people along the roadway and applied his brakes.

The truck, owned by M. E. McBurney, skidded into a parked 1954 coach owned by Virgil Mercer of New Waterford and Miriam Calhoun, 50, of 914 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Jarvis said there was another vehicle parked on the roadway in the opposite lane and a man in the middle of the road. Mercer told officers he was walking across the road when the truck suddenly approached.

Jarvis was charged with traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions. The mishap occurred at 8:40 p. m. about a half mile north of the city limits.

$10 In Cash Missing In Chester Burglary

Some $10 was discovered missing from the cash register of the Citizens Drugstore in Chester Tuesday, additional loss from a breaking and entering earlier yesterday, police reported.

An intruder, breaking a window at the rear of the Carolina Ave. drugstore, took some cartons of cigarettes and change from the cash register. The store is operated by George Manolakis of 5th St.

High School Choir Provides Program Of Rotary Meeting

If members of the Rotary Club had difficulty in getting into the swing of the holiday season, chances are their spirits were lifted sky-high at Tuesday's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The 52-voice concert choir of East Liverpool High School presented an impressive program of Christmas songs under direction of Miss Arletta Helfrich.

Attired in new blue and white choir robes, the singers displayed smooth harmony in seven selections. The club joined in two other numbers to add a bit of volume.

A highlight was a bass solo by Bill Cregar whose voice was rich and steady in the spiritual, "Sweet Little Jesus Boy." He was described as an "outstanding" bass singer by Miss Helfrich.

The choir's selections included "There Is No Room" and "Deo Gracis" from a ceremony of carols; an American carol, "Break Forth Into Joy;" "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" (Bach), "O Holy Night," and "Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas."

Club members joined in singing "Winter Wonderland" and "White Christmas." A small group of choir members known as the "Madrigals" presented "Sleigh Ride."

Miss Mary Ann Siddel and Miss Anne Spore were accompanists.

A native of Wellsville, Miss Helfrich studied at Ohio State University and the University of Columbia and taught previously in Lima and Yonkers, N. Y. She was introduced by C. V. Hughes, program chairman.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, reminded that the club will meet Monday next week instead of Tuesday, and also Dec. 31 instead of Tuesday, Jan. 1. A student from Wales will speak at Monday's noon luncheon meeting in the hotel.

Know how to heat a can of kippered herring the easy way? Open can and place in a skillet; add enough hot water to come about halfway up the sides of the can. Cover the skillet and allow the water to simmer for about 15 minutes; by that time the kippers should be thoroughly hot — if they aren't simmer a little longer.

Pupils Entertain PTA At Wellsville

Pupils of the three grades and the special class of McKinley School of Wellsville presented a program at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

The first grade sang and gave a flannelgraph.

Miss Edna Colmer's special class included a trio, Lois Davis, James Watson and Connie David.

Mrs. Edythe Elkins' second and third grades gave several group songs, including the enactment of the "Twelfth Day of Christmas".

The Rev. Walter Brown of the Free Methodist Church led devotions, reading from Luke 2 and speaking on the meaning of Christmas. Mrs. Edna McIntosh, president, presided and the association made plans to treat the children at the school Christmas party and gift exchange Friday. Mrs. Hazel Fraser's first grade will receive free milk for winning the room count.

Homeroom mothers of the three grades served refreshments. The PTA will join with other groups of the city in a combined meeting Jan. 21.

Country Club Entry Nets Intruder $4.50

Sheriff's deputies are investigating two thefts which happened Monday evening or early Tuesday morning, according to Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

William Warrick, club stewart, reported an entry at the Country Club and deputies said $4.50 in change was taken. Entrance was made through broken window.

Fred Thompson, superintendent of the Hill Construction Co. on Route 30, just northwest of Route 170, reported a truck and crane were broken into and that 50 feet of welding hose, a six-volt battery and numerous hand tools were taken. No value was placed on the missing equipment.

75 Attend Children's Yule Fete In Chester

About 75 attended a children's Christmas party sponsored at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night by the Men's Fellowship.

Clifton Huff, president, led devotions, and Raymond Stevens screened colored slides. Scripture was read by Miss Jeanne Waggle.

The Rev. William Claghorn gave prayer. Delbert Cooper led carol singing with Mrs. Theodore Martin accompanist. Santa Claus distributed treats.

Rehabilitation Struggle

More Efforts Directed To Care For Mentally Ill

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—At age 64, John C. came home after 23 desolate years in a state mental hospital. He is one of thousands salvaged from back wards of mental hospitals.

Fourteen years ago, he was another inmate in a hospital with 1,850 patients, and only two doctors. To feed, clothe, house and "treat" each of them, the hospital spent $1.06 a day. In some other hospitals the expenditure was as little as 43 cents a day.

Then an aroused state acted, providing more psychiatrists, nurses and psychiatric aides, things to do, new stimulation, to win the sick back to health. With intensive treatment, John C. recovered.

Today that same hospital spends about $11 daily per patient and has only half as many patients. There, and in other of the nation's best mental hospitals, 70 to 85 per cent of patients to home within three months to a year after admission. And this same hospital now spends only half as much, for total treatment, for every patient who recovers, due to the shorter stay.

The dolorous rub is that only 20 per cent of patients in all the nation's mental hospitals get the benefits of such effective treatment.

This includes drugs and intensive psychotherapy, the psychiatrist's way of listening and talking to and encouraging patients, such as John C., "until finaily a light goes on in their minds and they understand what they were doing to themselves," as Dr. William Menninger expresses it.

Still today in state mental hospitals, only half of all patients are getting anything more than custodial care—bed and board. As a national average, mental hospitals spend only $5 daily per patient, as against $34.90 daily in a general hospital for the person ill with a physical complaint.

Another idea is spreading — strike away the locks and bars in mental hospitals.

Coming along rapidly is a new concept of community psychiatry, says Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health.

In this, the emphasis is to get the patient over the acute stage of illness by hospital treatment, then send him home to finish his recovery, much like the patient with a heart attack or tuberculosis.

Only about one-fifth of the nation's general hospitals as yet have such psychiatric units. Last year, general hospitals cared for about 350,000 of the emotionally ill.

There are other helping hands.

Hospitals and communities now operate nearly 1,500 psychiatric outpatient clinics, assisting half a million persons last year.

In some communities, emotionally sick children from broken homes are finding foster homes, for affection and normal experiences while being treated at mental health clinics.

Recovery from mental illness is one thing. But people can slip back if they cannot find jobs, are shunned by friends, or return to bad home situations and old problems.

New and well-established community facilities are tackling these problems.

Formerly, about one-third of patients discharged from mental hospitals relapsed and had to go back within a year.

Pilot programs stressing total rehabilitation through multiple services indicate this recurrence of illness could be reduced to 10 per cent or less, says the National Institute of Mental Health.

But only one-fourth of the nation's counties have any mental health clinics at all, and most have long waiting lists. Most hospitals are under-staffed. There are few clinics for children.

The battle for mental health costs money. Fifteen states by law now share with cities and communities the costs of expanding mental health facilities. The latest budget of the institute allocates $4,200,000 for matching grants with states to plan comprehensive mental health plans. Last year, federal, state and local agencies spent $91 millions for community mental health programs.

Potatoes: 2,626,000 bushels.

In its separate tobacco report, the department listed as part of a bumper burley crop Ohio's 18,020,000 pounds of Type 31 produced on 10,600 acres, an average yield of 1,700 pounds per acre.

For the other Ohio tobacco, Type 42-44 Miami Valley cigar filler, the figures were 4,300 acres harvested at 1,650 pounds per acre for a total of 7,095,000 pounds

The Minnesota Twins stole only 33 bases in 53 attempts during 1962.

BALTIMORE (AP)—For the second consecutive year, a family gardener in suburban Rodgers Forge accidentally sprinkled powdered cement instead of lime on the family lawn.

The reasons were the same as last year: Two teen-age sons used the lime bucket to store cement; mother again forgot to verify the contents before dumping them onto the grass.

She swept it off the lawn in time, though, this year. Last year, a good rain soaked the lawn and gave the family an unplanned patio.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who is baffled by a problem. All the fellows in our crowd have cars. Some of the guys are careful drivers but most of them like to show off when they get behind the wheel.

I've been in cars with guys who have deliberately run red lights and gone through stop signs just to prove they aren't "chicken." One fellow likes to see how close he can come to another car when passing.

A boy with whom I used to go steady was a speed maniac and drove one of those revved-up jobs 100 miles an hour. He finally had a terrible accident. It was his girl friend, not he, who was scarred for life. When they pulled him out of the wreck the beer cans were still in the front seat.

What can a girl do when her date is a reckless driver? I hate to make a scene, but I don't want to be a statistic either.—NEED AN ANSWER.

Dear Need: Any girl who rides in a car with a show-off driver or with a fellow who is drinking is asking for serious trouble.

My advice is this: Get out of the car at the very first opportunity. Go to the nearest telephone and call your parents or the police and ask them to come and get you.

When the fellows learn you will not risk your neck with a smart alecky driver, they'll behave. Or—let them pile up with some other girl who had less sense than you.

Ditched By Doll

Dear Ann: I'm an idiot and I know it but if you will help me square things with my doll I'll behave from now on, I raise my right hand.

The other night I was driving home from a meeting and I spotted this cute chick waiting for a bus. I asked her if she wanted a lift and she said yes.

To make a long story short, she told me she was pretty good at the twist, so we ended up at a little out-of-the-way place for a few drinks and some dancing. That's all there was to it.

I was sure nobody saw us so I said nothing to my doll. But I was wrong. Somebody did see us and she got the feedback the next day. That pickup was a spook and I'll never see her again. I know I did a dumb thing and I'm sorry. Please help me patch it up. —MAC THE KNIFE.

Dear Mac (pretty dull knife): Too bad your mother never taught you not to ride with strangers.

Life is a series of decisions, Bub. Sometimes the wrong one can fix your clock permanently. I'll ask the doll to forgive you this time but if you steal any more customers from the bus company I hope she gives you the ax.

Deserted By Dad

Dear Ann: My dad, who is now 57 years of age, came to live with us two years ago when mother passed away. Our youngsters were very fond of him and he adored them.

Six months ago dad married a widow who has three young children. He is so wrapped up in his new family that he doesn't pay any attention to his own grandchildren any more. Of course we all feel hurt.

Why do people get nutty in their old age? Dad had everything a man could want when he lived with us, and now he has tangled himself up with this widow and these kids of hers.

According to law, who is entitled to a man's estate—blood relatives (such as grandchildren) or stepchildren? Please answer in the paper so other old fools can see it. — TEAR-FILLED EYES.

Dear Girl: The dollar signs are glowing like neon lights in those tear-filled eyes of yours.

If there is no will the laws of the state prevail. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the stepchildren came in ahead of the grandchildren. (And incidentally, your sad story gets me right here, Toots.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I finally found a way to patch those narrow-legged blue jeans my boys wear for play. My neighbor showed me.

She merely rips the outside seam (not the inner flat-felled one) for about 10 inches, along the knee area. She then flattens out the leg and sews the patch on. Then she restitches the seam. This is much easier than struggling the way I have been doing.

HELEN W.

DEAR HELOISE: Since I keep my portable sewing machine up most of the time . . . I made a terry cloth cover for it —using the cover on my toaster as a pattern. It looks real pretty and keeps my sewing machine free of dust. Also it saves me from getting it out and putting it away each time I have something to mend.

And bless the woman who told us how to warm baby bottles by putting them in hot tap water from the faucet in a pan. It has saved much screaming and time.

BEVERLY A.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is how I get my son and daughter to pick up their toys and clothes.

Anytime I find a dropped article, I yell — "Goof off!" Both of the children come to see who it was that goofed off.

The guilty one must pick up the item and put it in its proper place. His punishment is one more chore, such as sweeping the sidewalk or burning the waste paper. They do this cheerfully because they know this is "the" punishment and they have only themselves to blame.

When something must be divided between the two children, I let one of the children divide the pie (and so forth) and the other child choose the piece they want. You never saw such measuring in your life!

MRS. MORRIS SHELTON.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: This is a message to those mothers who want to know how to get their children's socks clean after they have walked and danced around the house in their stocking feet.

Don't try! Just hide all of their clean socks, and when they want clean ones, tell them to wash out the dirty ones themselves. After they have washed out a few dirty pairs they will either go around in their bare feet, or wear shoes next time.

MRS. G. H. R.

Dear Heloise: I shampoo my own rugs. I have found that I can tie little plastic bags on the legs of my furniture to prevent rust marks forming on my carpet when wet. This is not as unsightly as other materials used to prevent permanent markings.

MRS. W. R. RICKENBACH.

DEAR HELOISE: We never had a suitable canister set until we made our own out of two pound coffee cans. We painted these to match our kitchen, then labeled each one with the name of what each contained.

We placed a seal in the middle of the lid for decoration and sprayed the whole can with a spray plastic for sealing and waterproofing. This is very inexpensive and can be done to suit your own color choice.

This column is about the greatest thing since sliced bread. I am making a scrap book from these articles for my own daughter who is only five months old now. When she marries, many of the hints still will be valuable, regardless of the new products on the market. Thanks to you and all of our readers. Keep 'em coming.

Inter-city Bus Expansion Set

Inter-city Transit, which operates district bus service, is taking over the Youngstown - East Liverpool - Wheeling runs which the Greyhound Co. is giving up.

John Young of Calcutta R. D. 2, operator of Inter-city, said his franchise calls for the start of operations Thursday. Greyhound is relinquishing the service with the last runs today.

The change will more than double the service between Youngstown and Wheeling with East Liverpool the intermediate point.

Four roundtrips will be made from East Liverpool to Youngstown each day and two round trips from East Liverpool to Wheeling, 365 days per year, excepting Sundays when half as many runs will be made, Young said. The full schedule will be maintained on holidays.

Inter-city already operates daily buses to Wellsville and on the Grandview - Pleasant Heights runs, and to East Palestine and Salineville on Saturdays.

Inter-city has maintained headquarters in East Palestine but the operations were moved to East Liverpool the first of the month and the carrier's central garage and shops now are at Calcutta. Young moved here from East Palestine at the same time.

Greyhound recently gave up the East Liverpool - Pittsburgh run but Beaver Valley Motor Coach Lines now provides the service from the Bus Terminal.

The first grade teachers are Mrs. Lee Tice, Mrs. Eleanor Rice, Mrs. Anne Kirkbride and Mrs. Helen Ward.

Second graders staged a Christmas play. They also sang a Dutch song and presented the carol, "Silent Night." As they paraded out of the room, they sang "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

The teachers are Mrs. Grace Paul, Mrs. Vada Faloon and Mrs. Allene Galloway.

Westgate PTA's Cub Pack Holds Reorganization

The committee will be under the chairmanship of Richard Johnston, who will also serve as leader of the newly-delegated neighborhood den to be called Den 79. Mrs. Johnston will serve as den mother.

Doherty will serve as institutional representative for all units. Bob Williams is cubmaster and the pack has about 75 boys.

The advancement chairman position went to Walter Hanlon. Bernard Stewart will be assistant cubmaster. Robert Kays and Doherty will remain as secretary and treasurer.

The pack will renew its charter the first week of January. Albert Dray will serve as a committeeman.

Westgate also sponsors Troop 78 with Jack Charnock as scoutmaster.

Middle Bulge Called Hard To Conceal

The problem measurement is— the stomach. Anatomically, it is the abdomen, but under any name, designers claim the middle bulge is the most difficult to conceal. One designer makes so bold as to claim "Women can lose half the stomach if they will just learn to stand properly."

Ida Jean Kain

Let's see about that. Which muscles should you use to draw up to your full height and stand in elegant posture? The streamlining answer is —the middle muscles, particularly the long front muscles. To make it easier to get your posture on the slim up and down muscle track, get acquainted with your own musculature.

The muscles on which the abdomen depends for support oppose and balance each other. On each side of the center front are long, narrow muscles which extend the full length of the abdomen. The base attachment is the crest of the pelvis.

AT THE TOP they are attached to the ribcage, above the waist. Think of these as being the up-pull muscles, with the pull in the direction of the specific rib attachment.

From this you can reason that elevating your shoulders is no help — the up-lift muscles are not attached there. Raising the chest won't do it either. Use the mid-section muscles to "lift" the figure.

Nature's muscular girdle is a marvel of efficiency. Bands of broad, flat muscles angle in bias-wise and curve around the side-front of the abdomen.

The inner muscle, the transversalis, is a thick sheet of parallel fibers crossing the abdomen horizontally. In co-ordinated action, the girdle muscles pull up, pull in and flatten the abdomen. In good posture, these muscles help streamline your figure and "take off half the stomach."

Practice good posture. Do you sit with the back of the hips against the chair back, lower abdominals contracted? In walking and standing, get the knack of pulling up-and-in with the girdle muscles.

If your girdle muscles are flabby, you cannot hold the up-pull or the in-pull. With isometric contraction, you can restore bracing tone to the important middle muscles in a single exercise, provided you do it daily. Every morning, before you get out of bed, do the following contraction.

Flat on your back, legs down, pull up and in firmly with the abdominal muscles. H-o-l-d the muscle contraction to a slow count of six. Repeat this contraction four times, always holding.

You will be amazed at how well you can tone the middle muscles by the practice of this simple contraction.

Send a stamped, self-addressed long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

2 Young Mothers And 2 Children Killed In Crash

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Holiday-season tragedy, in the form of a highway crash, took the lives of two young mothers and two preschool children Tuesday.

For relatives of the four Killbuck, Holmes County, victims, the Christmas season has lost its glow. That's true too for a Canton truck driver, who must carry with him the sickening mental picture of the accident that occurred on U.S. 36 at the Ohio 76 intersection a mile northwest of here.

Sheriff William Hoop Jr. said Leroy Ulrich, 36, of Canton was driving his semitrailer outfit along U.S. 36 when an auto carrying the four doomed persons and another child pulled out into his path. The impact wrecked the car and sent the truck reeling over a bank. Its trailer remained on the road and was hit by an oncoming car, injuring two Coshocton men, one seriously.

Those who perished were Mrs. Eileen F. Berry, 24, apparent driver of the ill-fated car; her two children by a former marriage, Donna DeLor, 5, and Michael Francis DeLor, 3; and Mrs. Jeaneida Schonauer, 27.

Mrs. Schonauer's son, Donald, 3, survived. He was taken to Coshocton Hospital with a leg fracture.

Mrs. Schonauer and the DeLor children died either en route to or shortly after arrival at Columbus hospitals.

Also in Coshocton Hospital, with a broken leg and possible skull fracture, was Martin West, 27, a passenger in the second car. Larry Michael, 19, who was driving that auto, and Ulrich escaped with minor injuries.

Betty Will Do Spinster, But Not Grandma

Betty Davis is willing to sing, try a soft-shoe dance step or even play a spinster in a Western — but she'll be darned if she'll be Burt Lancaster's mother.

Hal Humphrey

"'I just don't feel like Burt Lancaster's mother," says Bette, who turned down that role in the Lancaster movie, "The Unforgiven" a couple of years ago. Lillian Gish took it. The way things are breaking for Bette lately, she can pass up anything that doesn't strike her fancy, including the "50 grandmothers" she claims she has been offered.

-:-

BETTE DOES her "spinstering" on tonight's "The Virginian" episode (7:30, Channel 3). Thursday night she'll sing and shuffle on Andy Williams' NBC show (10, Channel 3).

Also this week she's at the "Perry Mason" studio taking the hospitalized Ray Burr's place in an episode which will be aired some time in January or February.

She insists that her career has been "competely resuscitated" (one never uses the word "comeback" in connection with an actor) by the huge success of "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?", the movie in which she co-starred with Joan Crawford.

-:-

"THE . TELEPHONE rings again, and even Warner Brothers wants me back. You know, that was my home for years and years," says Bette, enjoying every minute of her "resuscitation."

"Of course, some people around here are saying 'Baby Jane' was just a freak. Well, let me say it was a pretty big freak, if it was a freak."

Last September, Bette took a full-page "situation wanted" ad in both Hollywood trade papers which read: "Mother of three (10, 11 and 15). Divorcee. American. Thrity years' experience as an actresss in motion pictures. Mobile still and more affable than rumor would have it. Wants steady employment in Hollywood. (Has had Broadway.) Bette Davis. References upon request."

-:-

SOME MEMBERS of the Hollywood colony thought Bette shouldn't have done it. In this Shangri-La, it's bad taste to admit one needs work. Just keep up the big front and suffer in the privacy of your wall-to-wall carpeted bathroom.

"That ad simply threw down the gauntlet to this town, and it accomplished its purpose," says Bette. "But you still can't be box office without a good movie. The star is always blamed when a picture flops, and I had too many bad pictures."

Bette knows that pictures are fewer and harder to come by now and, although she says TV is not her deep ambition, she would do a TV series if the right one came along.

-:-

"THE IDEA behind the Loretta Young show — the problems of a mother — is a good one, but not the way Loretta has done it. You just can't be that divine every week. Also, I see she insisted on a beau. If she's being a proper mother to all those kids, she wouldn't have a beau," analyzes Bette.

"Incidentally, who is that fellow with Loretta? He's simply marvelous, isn't he?"

For several years Bette has wanted to be a member of a stock company of four or five actors who would appear in various roles with a weekly TV drama. So far, no one has taken her up on it.

HER CURRENT SUCCESS and the demand for her services generate no illusions for Bette.

"If my next picture isn't good, then I'll be back where I was," says Bette. "As for TV, they prefer these young kids who don't know anything. The rest of us know too much and are demanding, for that reason. But when TV producers are in a bind, they call on us, because we know our job.

"Frankly, if I didn't have to work, I would be just as happy keeping a home. Don't forget, I did it for three years when I was recuperating from a broken hip."

Bette picturing herself as the happy hausfrau is the only statement she made which doesn't make sense. It's highly unlikely that she ever will be found making domestic science a career, or that we'll have to ask, "What ever happened to Bette Davis?"

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Care Needed In Choosing Toys

For any child to have an excessive number of toys at Christmas is not good. He may be so overwhelmed and distracted as not to get maximum pleasure and value from any one of them. And if at four or five, he gets so many all at one time, he will, as he grows older, expect still more on each succeeding Christmas. His parents may find this child growing more and more selfish. Or, on discovering year by year the increasing cost, they may incline to buy inferior playthings, trying to provide great numbers of them. There's nothing worse for a child than to have a lot of trash for playthings.

Dr Garry Meyers

SO LET ME ENTREAT you parents, beginning with the baby, to keep your sights down. You can easily raise them, but not lower them, as the child grows older.

If friends and relatives heap too many toys on your child, you might wisely spirit some of them away on Christmas Day.

In choosing each gift for your child, ask yourself some questions:

Is it suited to his age and development? Is it safe — especially for the young child? How sturdy is it? How long will he continue to enjoy it? To how many uses can he put it? How much may he invent and create with it? Can he operate it himself?

Also, as he grows beyond three or four, he needs some toys, including games, which he can enjoy with other children of his age.

MANY PARENTS are attracted by the glamour and novelty of toys, by how delighted the child will be at surprises, especially over the toy which operates almost like a person, robot-like — or is a miniature of things used by grown - ups.

Each year, more and more playthings of this type are on the market. Usually they are costly, but of little value for long and creative enjoyment.

Discerning parents consider at least one or two toys they are sure will be usefully enjoyed for a long, long time and that may be relatively expensive; then they add a few less costly, but still good ones.

IN ANY EVENT, these parents budget beforehand the amount of money they will spend on toys and give thought to spreading some of this amount of money over the year instead of using it all at once.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Stimulating Your Child's Imagination", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Farm Officials Upset Over Press Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennedy administration farm officials are somewhat upset over press relations—or lack of them—of advisory committees created by Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman to help formulate farm programs.

These committees are made up of leaders in the commodity industries, including growers and, in some cases, buyers and processors.

Freeman and his aides were embarrassed by the way the committees for feed grains and tobacco handled their recent closed discussions with department officials here.

The tobacco committee, which came here at department invitation, concluded its work and disappeared without briefing newsmen on its operations. Department officials said the committee opposed such a briefing or the issuance of a news release.

A few days later, a member of the committee released to a reporter back home the gist of the Washington discussions—a department proposal to reduce price supports on tobacco on which a chemical was used to control sucker growth. The department said some buyers, particularly foreign, do not want chemically-treated tobacco.

Naturally, reporters assigned to the department protested this action.

Then a few days later, a feed grain advisory committee met here in another closed session to consider payment and support rates offered growers for cooperating with the 1963 feed grain program. At a briefing, committee members said no particular recommendations were made to the department.

Yet a few days later Freeman announced a change in the payments and supports, adding that this action was based on field reports and discussions by the advisory committee.

This difference in reporting activities of the advisory committee also brought press complaints.

As a consequence, the department is considering issuance of a memo to these committees calling upon them to make a fair, accurate and full representation of their recommendations at the close of meetings with department officials in Washington.

But, some committee members have said that the determination of what information, if any, they give newsmen is determined largely by the department itself.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says most grain traders anticipate higher feed grain prices, at least until after the first of the year.

The department said in a grain market review that most traders believe that the harvest surplus of corn already has been marketed and that cold weather would encourage growers to hold any remaining marketable supplies until after the beginning of the year.

A gift exchange and treat will be directed by the Mothers Club.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Care Needed In Choosing Toys

For any child to have an excessive number of toys at Christmas is not good. He may be so overwhelmed and distracted as not to get maximum pleasure and value from any one of them. And if at four or five, he gets so many all at one time, he will, as he grows older, expect still more on each succeeding Christmas. His parents may find this child growing more and more selfish. Or, on discovering year by year the increasing cost, they may incline to buy inferior playthings, trying to provide great numbers of them. There's nothing worse for a child than to have a lot of trash for playthings.

SO LET ME ENTREAT you parents, beginning with the baby, to keep your sights down. You can easily raise them, but not lower them, as the child grows older.

If friends and relatives heap too many toys on your child, you might wisely spirit some of them away on Christmas Day.

In choosing each gift for your child, ask yourself some questions:

Is it suited to his age and development? Is it safe — especially for the young child? How sturdy is it? How long will he continue to enjoy it? To how many uses can he put it? How much may he invent and create with it? Can he operate it himself?

Also, as he grows beyond three or four, he needs some toys, including games, which he can enjoy with other children of his age.

MANY PARENTS are attracted by the glamour and novelty of toys, by how delighted the child will be at surprises, especially over the toy which operates almost like a person, robot-like — or is a miniature of things used by grown - ups.

Each year, more and more playthings of this type are on the market. Usually they are costly, but of little value for long and creative enjoyment.

Discerning parents consider at least one or two toys they are sure will be usefully enjoyed for a long, long time and that may be relatively expensive; then they add a few less costly, but still good ones.

IN ANY EVENT, these parents budget beforehand the amount of money they will spend on toys and give thought to spreading some of this amount of money over the year instead of using it all at once.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Stimulating Your Child's Imagination", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Farm Officials Upset Over Press Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennedy administration farm officials are somewhat upset over press relations—or lack of them—of advisory committees created by Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman to help formulate farm programs.

These committees are made up of leaders in the commodity industries, including growers and, in some cases, buyers and processors.

Freeman and his aides were embarrassed by the way the committees for feed grains and tobacco handled their recent closed discussions with department officials here.

The tobacco committee, which came here at department invitation, concluded its work and disappeared without briefing newsmen on its operations. Department officials said the committee opposed such a briefing or the issuance of a news release.

A few days later, a member of the committee released to a reporter back home the gist of the Washington discussions—a department proposal to reduce price supports on tobacco on which a chemical was used to control sucker growth. The department said some buyers, particularly foreign, do not want chemically-treated tobacco.

Naturally, reporters assigned to the department protested this action.

Then a few days later, a feed grain advisory committee met here in another closed session to consider payment and support rates offered growers for cooperating with the 1963 feed grain program. At a briefing, committee members said no particular recommendations were made to the department.

Yet a few days later Freeman announced a change in the payments and supports, adding that this action was based on field reports and discussions by the advisory committee.

This difference in reporting activities of the advisory committee also brought press complaints.

As a consequence, the department is considering issuance of a memo to these committees calling upon them to make a fair, accurate and full representation of their recommendations at the close of meetings with department officials in Washington.

But, some committee members have said that the determination of what information, if any, they give newsmen is determined largely by the department itself.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says most grain traders anticipate higher feed grain prices, at least until after the first of the year.

The department said in a grain market review that most traders believe that the harvest surplus of corn already has been marketed and that cold weather would encourage growers to hold any remaining marketable supplies until after the beginning of the year.

Vice President Taking Hand In Major Fields

WASHINGTON (AP)—In quiet contrast to the fanfare which marked his years as a Senate leader, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is digging deeper into government than any predecessor.

With the encouragement of President Kennedy, Johnson has branched out from the relative vacuity of his constitutional duty of presiding over the Senate to take a hand in major administrative fields.

By all appearances, Johnson, the one-time whip-cracker of the Senate, has become a cheerful lieutenant to the man he once thought was too inexperienced to be president.

Kennedy has gone out of the way to reciprocate by giving Johnson on-the-job training in the executive department far beyond that to which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon pointed in his unsuccessful bid for the presidency in 1960.

The restless energy which always has driven the rangy Texan spills out now in his work as a member of the "insiders" executive committee of the National Security Council, his statutory task of presiding over the Space Advisory Council, his chairmanship of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities, his job as head of the Peace Corps' advisory council and his participation in Cabinet sessions.

Kennedy has sent Johnson as his representative to 22 foreign countries and tabbed him to preside over an international manpower conference.

In other days, it used to be something of a news story when a vice president was called to the White House to confer with his chief. Johnson is in and out of the place almost daily, participating in the high policy decisions.

Johnson, for example, knew almost as soon as Kennedy did that the Russians had shipped offensive missiles into Cuba. The vice president is represented as having stood for vigorous counteraction.

Johnson walks with careful steps on Capitol Hill. He is presiding officer but not a member of the Senate. He served in the House and Senate long enough to avoid the pitfalls of an outsider trying to tell members what they ought to do.

That, perhaps, is the key to the Johnson operation: Keep your balance sheet clean, take on any job you're asked to do, but don't get tagged with empire building.

Joseph Kennedy Making Gains In Rehabilitation

PALM BEACH Fla. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, who suffered a paralyzing stroke a year ago today, is reported making continuing gains in a slow rehabilitation process.

He may even be back in his self-appointed role of family airport greeter when the President arrives from the Bahamas Thursday for a Christmastime family gathering.

It is a far happier atmosphere for the Kennedys than the days last year when the elder Kennedy lay stricken at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Medical sources, although reluctant to evaluate the 74-year-old Kennedy's condition, say he has made encouraging improvement. He is said to have regained some speech—though far from conversation—and can walk with the aid of a cane. Mostly, however, he gets about in a wheelchair.

Medically, the President's father there is considered discharged. The problem remaining is one of relearning and strengthening weakened muscles, the experts say.

Those who have seen Joseph Kennedy since his return to this resort area on Dec. 6 say he looks a bit thinner, but well.

Although there is no longer any medical problem, four nurses are on duty at the Kennedy home on a 24-hour basis.

Voters In Ashtabula Okay City Income Tax

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Voters in a special election have approved a city income tax of eight-tenths of one per cent, which will raise an estimated $400,000 to $450,000 annually. The vote was 2,374 to 2,206 in the special election Tuesday.

The city's first tax on income will be effective from Jan. 1, 1963, to Dec. 31, 1965.

The tax money will be used for street lighting, garbage collection, salary adjustments for city employes, a city recreation program, capital improvements and to pay off current indebtedness.

City officials said the capital improvements would include the purchase of a former post office building for use as a city hall.

DiSalle In New Bid To Put Shoe On Rhodes' Foot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, whose Liquor Department lately has been a target of influence-peddling accusations, has made another try to put the shoe on the other foot — that of Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes.

DiSalle's dig came as a reaction to Tuesday's announcement by Rhodes' finance director-designate, Richard L. Krabach, that he is hiring two accounting firms to check the state fiscal status.

The governor wondered out loud before newsmen whether an unidentified senior partner in Ernst & Ernst, one of the accounting specialists being engaged, had any influence in getting the assignment for E & E. DiSalle said the partner took part in the Rhodes for Governor campaign in Cuyahoga County.

The same firm, DiSalle noted, also was hired for a liquor audit in 1959 and recently to check adding machine purchases in State Auditor Rhodes' office. The latter audit was instrumental in clearing Rhodes' staff of a DiSalle charge of improper practices.

DiSalle said of the financial audit, to be made as of Nov. 30:

"I suppose they want to do this audit after school (foundation) payments were made in order to get the most unfavorable position possible to justify increased revenues."

1 Killed, 2 Injured In 3-Car Collision

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — Fred Remsberg, 70, of Lakewood was killed Tuesday night in a three-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 250 and Ohio 113 four miles north of Norwalk. Two other persons were injured.

Remsberg was riding in a car driven by his wife, Louise, 63, who was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital in Sandusky in fair condition.

Also injured was Marvin Bickley, 36, of Sandusky, another driver, who was listed in fair condition in Sandusky Memorial Hospital.

The Highway Patrol said the Bickley auto hit the Remsberg car as it was crossing U.S. 250 and the latter car then crashed into an auto that was waiting to enter U.S. 250. Paul E. Wynn, 39, driver of the third car, escaped injury.

Value On Road Work Set At $395 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways reports Tuesday's bid-opening on 12 projects brought total value of road work offered to contractors by the state in 1962 to more than $395 million.

The 26th and latest session of the calendar year brought low bids totaling $28,106,145, which doesn't include right-of-way and engineering costs of $13,114,413.

7 Small Children Overcome By Fumes

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Seven small children of two sisters were overcome by fumes from a defective water heater Tuesday, but all were released after treatment at Mercy Hospital.

The mothers, Mrs. Nancy Herd, 19, and Mrs. Mary L. Ledford, 24, called the fire department when they and the children began feeling ill. Mrs. Ledford has five children and Mrs. Herd two.

Vice President Taking Hand In Major Fields

WASHINGTON (AP)—In quiet contrast to the fanfare which marked his years as a Senate leader, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is digging deeper into government than any predecessor.

With the encouragement of President Kennedy, Johnson has branched out from the relative vacuity of his constitutional duty of presiding over the Senate to take a hand in major administrative fields.

By all appearances, Johnson, the one-time whip-cracker of the Senate, has become a cheerful lieutenant to the man he once thought was too inexperienced to be president.

Kennedy has gone out of the way to reciprocate by giving Johnson on-the-job training in the executive department far beyond that to which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon pointed in his unsuccessful bid for the presidency in 1960.

The restless energy which always has driven the rangy Texan spills out now in his work as a member of the "insiders" executive committee of the National Security Council, his statutory task of presiding over the Space Advisory Council, his chairmanship of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities, his job as head of the Peace Corps' advisory council and his participation in Cabinet sessions.

Kennedy has sent Johnson as his representative to 22 foreign countries and tabbed him to preside over an international manpower conference.

In other days, it used to be something of a news story when a vice president was called to the White House to confer with his chief. Johnson is in and out of the place almost daily, participating in the high policy decisions.

Johnson, for example, knew almost as soon as Kennedy did that the Russians had shipped offensive missiles into Cuba. The vice president is represented as having stood for vigorous counteraction.

Johnson walks with careful steps on Capitol Hill. He is presiding officer but not a member of the Senate. He served in the House and Senate long enough to avoid the pitfalls of an outsider trying to tell members what they ought to do.

That, perhaps, is the key to the Johnson operation: Keep your balance sheet clean, take on any job you're asked to do, but don't get tagged with empire building.

Lodge Holds Installation

New officers of John Washington Masonic Lodge 72 were installed at a meeting Monday night at the lodge hall on Locust St.

Officers include Joseph Porter, worshipful master; Luther Thornton, senior warden; John Scott, junior warden; Caesar Peters, secretary; Richard Carter, treasurer.

Ed Williams, senior deacon; Anderson Abbott, junior deacon; Byron Carter, senior steward; C. M. Tarver, junior steward; the Rev. E. D. Arrington, chaplain, and Luther Gibson, tyler.

The trustees are Gibson, installed Monday night for a three-year term, Peters and Kenneth Carter.

The installing officer was Eugene Taylor of Wellsville, and Kenneth Carter was installing marshal.

Refreshments were served by Porter and committee. The lodge will meet Jan. 8.

Joseph Kennedy Making Gains In Rehabilitation

PALM BEACH Fla. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, who suffered a paralyzing stroke a year ago today, is reported making continuing gains in a slow rehabilitation process.

He may even be back in his self-appointed role of family airport greeter when the President arrives from the Bahamas Thursday for a Christmastime family gathering.

It is a far happier atmosphere for the Kennedys than the days last year when the elder Kennedy lay stricken at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Medical sources, although reluctant to evaluate the 74-year-old Kennedy's condition, say he has made encouraging improvement. He is said to have regained some speech—though far from conversation—and can walk with the aid of a cane. Mostly, however, he gets about in a wheelchair.

Medically, the President's father is considered discharged. The problem remaining is one of relearning and strengthening weakened muscles, the experts say.

Those who have seen Joseph Kennedy since his return to this resort area on Dec. 6 say he looks a bit thinner, but well.

Although there is no longer any medical problem, four nurses are on duty at the Kennedy home on a 24-hour basis.

Voters In Ashtabula Okay City Income Tax

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Voters in a special election have approved a city income tax of eight-tenths of one per cent, which will raise an estimated $400,000 to $450,000 annually. The vote was 2,374 to 2,206 in the special election Tuesday.

The city's first tax on income will be effective from Jan. 1, 1963, to Dec. 31, 1965.

The tax money will be used for street lighting, garbage collection, salary adjustments for city employes, a city recreation program, capital improvements and to pay off current indebtedness.

City officials said the capital improvements would include the purchase of a former post office building for use as a city hall.

OU Man Elected

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio University's Charles Minelli has been elected national secretary-treasurer of the College Band Directors National Association.

DiSalle In New Bid To Put Shoe On Rhodes' Foot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, whose Liquor Department lately has been a target of influence-peddling accusations, has made another try to put the shoe on the other foot — that of Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes.

DiSalle's dig came as a reaction to Tuesday's announcement by Rhodes' finance director-designate, Richard L. Krabach, that he is hiring two accounting firms to check the state fiscal status.

The governor wondered out loud before newsmen whether an unidentified senior partner in Ernst & Ernst, one of the accounting specialists being engaged, had any influence in getting the assignment for E & E. DiSalle said the partner took part in the Rhodes for Governor campaign in Cuyahoga County.

The same firm, DiSalle noted, also was hired for a liquor audit in 1959 and recently to check adding machine purchases in State Auditor Rhodes' office. The latter audit was instrumental in clearing Rhodes' staff of a DiSalle charge of improper practices.

DiSalle said of the financial audit, to be made as of Nov. 30:

"I suppose they want to do this audit after school (foundation) payments were made in order to get the most unfavorable position possible to justify increased revenues."

1 Killed, 2 Injured In 3-Car Collision

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — Fred Remsberg, 70, of Lakewood was killed Tuesday night in a three-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 250 and Ohio 113 four miles north of Norwalk. Two other persons were injured.

Remsberg was riding in a car driven by his wife, Louise, 63, who was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital in Sandusky in fair condition.

Also injured was Marvin Bickley, 36, of Sandusky, another driver, who was listed in fair condition in Sandusky Memorial Hospital.

The Highway Patrol said the Bickley auto hit the Remsberg car as it was crossing U.S. 250 and the latter car then crashed into an auto that was waiting to enter U.S. 250. Paul E. Wynn, 39, driver of the third car, escaped injury.

Value On Road Work Set At $395 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways reports Tuesday's bid-opening on 12 projects brought total value of road work offered to contractors by the state in 1962 to more than $395 million.

The 26th and latest session of the calendar year brought low bids totaling $28,106,145, which doesn't include right-of-way and engineering costs of $13,114,413.

7 Small Children Overcome By Fumes

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Seven small children of two sisters were overcome by fumes from a defective water heater Tuesday, but all were released after treatment at Mercy Hospital.

The mothers, Mrs. Nancy Herd, 19, and Mrs. Mary L. Ledford, 24, called the fire department when they and the children began feeling ill. Mrs. Ledford has five children and Mrs. Herd two.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELEPHANTS

QUESTION: Why do they say an elephant never forgets?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: People probably say this because there is a certain amount of truth in it. This great creature is smart as well as big, he ranks number eight among the world's most intelligent animals, and he does have a good memory. But to say elephants never forget is to exaggerate greatly. When they are first caught, they are bound and kept on very short rations. If they never forgot this treatment. it would be impossible to train them afterward. Yet a great many are trained. Another idea about elephants (2) is even more false: that they are mortally afraid of mice. Elephants in zoos don't notice mice. If a mouse got into Jumbo's trunk, Jumbo would blast him out of there in a moment — look at the way he squirts water. Another idea (3) has a certain reasonableness, because African elephants are wilder and fiercer beasts than their Indian cousins. Yet they can be trained. Jumbo himself, an African elephant, proved it by the way children could ride on his back. A last superstition (4) doesn't seem to have any facts to back it up. For years, hunters have tried to find the supposed elephant graveyards. But none has ever shown up.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I eliminate book lice?

A. These are insects that feed on microscopic molds that grow on furniture, wallpaper, and other house furnishings. They strive in rooms that have been closely or poorly ventilated. Rout them by spraying the infested places with a five-per-cent DDT oil spray.

Q. How can I straighten out some warped phonograph records?

A. One method is to immerse the records in hot water (about 150 degrees) in a shallow flat-bottom pan. Then invert a dinner plate over the record, a plate whose diameter permits its edge to contact only the outer edge of the record. Place a one-pound weight on the plate and leave the record under pressure until the water has cooled to room temperature.

Q. How can I clean black or colored felt hats?

A. One good way is to rub over them with a piece of stale rye bread.

Q. How can I remove chocolate stains from fabrics?

A. By applying a paste made of cold water and borax.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER 15

Mr. Shnoo got up very early on the morning of Christmas eve. He did not know what time the Queen would arrive but he intended to be ready for her.

He dressed carefully in his best blue suit. He shined his shoes and selected an elegant tie and put a sparkling white handkerchief in his breast pocket.

He went outdoors. It was a fine day. Even the sun was shining, which was unusual at this time of year. Crookshank went hurrying by, his head hunched down between his shoulders.

"Merry Christmas!" called Mr. Shnoo gaily.

Crookshank did not answer but rushed on. Mr. Shnoo shrugged. He was too happy to be annoyed. He whistled a gay tune as he strolled along. Presently he noticed that the path he walked on was damp. As he went on, the path became wetter and wetter until Mr. Shnoo's feet began to get quite soggy. In fact, by now, there was water rushing over his shoes.

HE STOPPED in amazement and looked all around. There seemed to be a flood of water coming down the street, filling the gutters, rolling over the sidewalks and spreading out to the animal cages. Even while Mr. Shnoo stood there, the water rose halfway up his legs.

Attendants began to run from the animal houses shouting "Flood! Flood!" The lions roared in surprise and the leopards growled and leaped against the doors of their cages. Snakes slithered to the pipes and lighting fixtures on their ceilings. The monkeys climbed onto the reindeer's antlers and the seals were washed right out of their pools.

Ducks swam down the road and an old sea lion floated over to visit the polar bear.

"Where is it coming from?" cried Mr. Shnoo as the attendants rushed by carrying chickens and prairie dogs and other small creatures that could not swim.

"The main water line has burst over beyond Molly's house!" shouted a man sailing by on a raft loaded with small animals.

Mr. Shnoo waded over to Molly's house. By the time he reached there he was swimming. The hippopotamus was not at all disturbed. She had floated out of her pool and was calmly swimming up and down the big mammal house.

—:—

MR. SHNOO pulled himself up on Molly's back and tried to think what to do. Presently Molly swam right out the door and Mr. Shnoo could see tons of water pouring out of a big round hole in the main water pipe that ran beside the house.

Attendants ran, shouting 'Flood! Flood!'

"Good heavens!" he thought. "There's enough water there to drown us all!"

Without waiting another second, he shut his eyes and stood on his head and wiggled his toes.

This was a very hard thing to do on top of Molly's slippery back but he finally managed it and he said "Selbuort Snippop" three times real quickly. When the last word was out he fell into the water over his head and when he came up, Molly was gone.

"Help! Help!" sputtered Mr. Shnoo because he thought he was going under again.

"Quit calling for help and come help me!" cried someone. Mr. Shnoo shook the water out of his eyes and saw Molly nearby with Santa sitting astride her neck, facing backwards and pushing a paddle as hard as he could.

Mr. Shnoo climbed aboard and Santa handed him a paddle and shouted, "Back her up! Full steam astern!"

Mr. Shnoo faced around to Molly's rear and he and Santa paddled furiously while Molly, sensing what was wanted of her, paddled her own feet in reverse. Little by little she was backed up to the big hole in the water pipe.

"Now!" shouted Santa. "Give her all you've got!"

He gave a mighty shove and Mr. Shnoo gave a mighty shove and Molly gave a might shove and plop Molly's end went right in the hole and the water was stopped.

As he went on, the path became wetter and wetter until Mr. Shnoo's feet began to get quite soggy. In fact, by now, there was water rushing over his shoes.

HE STOPPED in amazement and looked all around. There seemed to be a flood of water coming down the street, filling the gutters, rolling over the sidewalks and spreading out to the animal cages. Even while Mr. Shnoo stood there, the water rose halfway up his legs.

Attendants began to run from the animal houses shouting "Flood! Flood!" The lions roared in surprise and the leopards growled and leaped against the doors of their cages. Snakes slithered to the pipes and lighting fixtures on their ceilings. The monkeys climbed onto the reindeer's antlers and the seals were washed right out of their pools.

Ducks swam down the road and an old sea lion floated over to visit the polar bear.

"Where is it coming from?" cried Mr. Shnoo as the attendants rushed by carrying chickens and prairie dogs and other small creatures that could not swim.

"The main water line has burst over beyond Molly's house!" shouted a man sailing by on a raft loaded with small animals.

Mr. Shnoo waded over to Molly's house. By the time he reached there he was swimming. The hippopotamus was not at all disturbed. She had floated out of her pool and was calmly swimming up and down the big mammal house.

MR. SHNOO pulled himself up on Molly's back and tried to think what to do. Presently Molly swam right out the door and Mr. Shnoo could see tons of water pouring out of a big round hole in the main water pipe that ran beside the house.

Attendants ran, shouting 'Flood! Flood!'

"Good heavens!" he thought. "There's enough water there to drown us all!"

Without waiting another second, he shut his eyes and stood on his head and wiggled his toes.

This was a very hard thing to do on top of Molly's slippery back but he finally managed it and he said "Selbuort Snippop" three times real quickly. When the last word was out he fell into the water over his head and when he came up, Molly was gone.

"Help! Help!" sputtered Mr. Shnoo because he thought he was going under again.

"Quit calling for help and come help me!" cried someone. Mr. Shnoo shook the water out of his eyes and saw Molly nearby with Santa sitting astride her neck, facing backwards and pushing a paddle as hard as he could.

Mr. Shnoo climbed aboard and Santa handed him a paddle and shouted, "Back her up! Full steam astern!"

Mr. Shnoo faced around to Molly's rear and he and Santa paddled furiously while Molly, sensing what was wanted of her, paddled her own feet in reverse. Little by little she was backed up to the big hole in the water pipe.

"Now!" shouted Santa. "Give her all you've got!"

He gave a mighty shove and Mr. Shnoo gave a mighty shove and Molly gave a might shove and plop Molly's end went right in the hole and the water was stopped.
